

Chapter 6: Beginning of the End

(Azerlisia Mountains)

“Wahahahaha nothing like playing like a hunter when you hunt some beasts.”

Using the Template of the Shadow Monarch, Sung Jinwoo, I laughed happily as I slaughtered Quagoa after Quagoa with a pair of knives leaving a trail of bodies behind.

With 80 thousand Quagoa to deal with, my templates that had a leveling system were leveling up like crazy and the main reason I had ordered Aura and Mare to only deal with any that managed to get past me or round up those that attempted to escape.

Due to my Heritage, I had an insane compatibility with the Shadow Monarch to the point where I could already bring 50 shadows under my service which was a lot better than the measly 10, I started out with.

On the way here I had met that lone Dwarf that was mining before consuming him gaining all of his memories and knowledge. With that we had been able to quickly make our way to Feo Berkana where the Frost Dragons and Quagoa lived.

Before too long I had slaughtered every monster and extracted the shadows of their strongest soldiers.

“Amazingly done Lucan-sama~”

“Lucan-sama was so elegant as he slaughtered those beasts~”

Hearing the praise from the twins I only smirked their way for a bit before continuing forward for the castle in the distance.

“Come Aura, Mare. We have a few lizards to deal with.”

The twins fell into step behind me as we floated over the corpses of the dead beasts.

Along the way we met that fat dragon Hejinmal or something that was immediately beheaded before his body was stored in my inventory so he could be properly harvested later.

“Hmm I wonder if I should leave some of them alive so they could breed later?” I mumbled to myself before shaking my head recalling I already had the Creature Feature perk that would add any wildlife I saw into my Demiplane. “Never mind.”

The twins looked at me curiously but chose to stay silent until we came upon the throne room.

“Who dares trespass-gghkk!” The dragon wasn’t able to finish talking before he dropped dead to the surprise of the others.

“Grasp Heart for the win.” With a smirk I pulled out Rebellion from my Dante Template and got ready. “It’s time to get crazy!”

It was a slaughter of course. I left no dragon alive before I brought them back as my shadow soldiers.

“Lucan-sama, if I may ask. Just what are those shadow soldiers?”

Turning to a curious Mare as I lazily deposited all of the corpses and gold into my inventory, I figured there was no harm in answering. “I’m a God of Death Mare. I have the ability to extract the very shadows from corpses and bring them back as my personal army. An army that will never tire and will endlessly regenerate as long as I have enough mana along with keeping any abilities they knew.”

Literal stars glowed in both Mare and Aura’s eyes as they looked at me with such reverence that it was a little creepy honestly.

“Amazing~ Lucan-sama is so amazing~”

“Lucan-sama is the strongest after all~”

Taking in their praise with a smile I finally finished collecting all the gold before a thought hit me. “Hmm before we leave, Aura, Mare. Go around the castle and store any books you find.”

“At once Lucan-sama!”

Alone again I headed to the locked treasury room before scoffing at what they considered a proper gate. With nary but my will, my shroud materialized behind me and I was quick to unlock the gate granting me access to what was inside.

“Hahaha now this looks more like a proper loot room after defeating the main boss.”

It took us about an hour but we eventually managed to loot everything that was not nailed down and store it into my infinite inventory before making our way back home with the use of Apportation.

We arrived back in my office where the target of our teleportation was still diligently working on her desk who looked up as soon as she noticed our presence.

“How did your outing go dear?” Cortana asked with a smile.

“It went well. Though I might have to ask one of the others to subjugate the remaining dwarfs since I want their rune knowledge.” The only reason I hadn’t done so was because I thought I had interfered enough for now and would let my minions take care of the rest while I had fun.

With Rimuru’s powers and after buying Voice of the World ten times, I had ‘renamed’ everyone tying them to me even closer. That meant that any kills done by my subordinates would count as my kills thus making some of my Templates level up a ton once the killing really started rolling.

As it was Rimuru’s template was now at tier 9 with all those souls I devoured, Satou’s, Jinwoo’s and Jihan’s templates were now at tier 8 after all the level ups.

All in all, it had been a very rewarding outing.

“Lucan-sama, if you wish it, I would be more than happy to take care of it.”

“Me too~”

“Thanks for volunteering you two but both of you are about to become very busy for the next several days.” I gave them a knowing look causing them to widen their eyes in realization as their face became red.

“Speaking of that, come on. Let’s head to bed. Later love.” Giving Cortana a kiss on the cheek, I turned to the two embarrassed elves and wrapped my arms around them before leading them out of the office and into my chambers.

On the way we passed some of the Pleiades who looked at us with longing knowing what was about to occur.

Upon reaching and locking my room, I wasted no time in turning to the twins and ordering to strip.

“Your lord commands you to bare yourself completely before me.”

Fidgeting nervously for a moment, Mare was the first to start followed by her sister. “Y-yes Lucan-sama~”

I stood back and appreciated the sight I was being treated to as articles of clothing started hitting the ground one after another. Mare being the only one with a skirt shily lowered it to the ground revealing something that came as no surprise.

‘Hmph, of course Mare is the one with the thong. Knowing how truly degenerate her creator was, it’s a wonder these two turned out alright.’ At least Aura had some cute striped panties instead of the boxer briefs I first thought of.

Finally, though the two stood before me completely naked while blushing but making no attempt to hide themselves from my gaze.

‘I’m so glad for Universal Calibration. It turned these two from cute elves into something out of a hentai with all the right curves and sizes.’ Licking my dry lips, I dismissed my clothing and got near them only smirking when I saw their eyes focus on my uncovered Excalibur.

“You two are beautiful.” I cooed cupping one breast from each girl and squeezing getting a moan in return. “And now belong to me~”

“Aaah~ Lucan-sama is touching my breasts~ It feels so good~” Apparently Mare was the kinkier of the two if just some mere touching got her this excited going by her trembling legs.

“T-that’s right Lucan-sama~ Our everything belongs to you~”

“Good~” I purred giving their nipples a little squeeze before letting go and letting myself fall back on the bed. “Now I want one of you servicing me properly while the other sits on my chest. I’ll be nice and let you decide which.”

Aura looked ready to protest about the audacity of sitting on my chest but one look from me got her to keep silent on the matter.

A moment later an embarrassed Aura crawled on the bed next to me before straddling my face with a quiet ‘sorry about this’. Down below I felt a pair of soft hands gently grab ahold of my junk and start pumping curiously.

“Hoh, you two seem oddly knowledgeable about this~ Did you ask advice from one of the others?” I teased Aura grabbing ahold of her thighs and kissing it.

“W-we did. We asked Shalltear how to best please you, my Lord.” Arura admitted shyly with her puffy pussy leaking slightly.

“Good. Then allow me to reward you properly~” Not giving her a chance to respond I stuck out my tongue and licked her outer lips getting a cute moan from her.

“Aaah~”

While I was busy showing Aura the pleasures of the flesh, Mare proved she was a quick learner and had wrapped her breasts around my dick giving me a titjob, licking and sucking what her breasts couldn't reach.

Still being an unexperienced virgin, it only took Aura a few more moments before she squealed and came on my chest with her tongue sticking out of her mouth. Letting her fall gently to the side I looked down seeing Mare looking up at me with a worshipful gaze never once slowing down her movements.

“That's enough Mare, I think it's time for the main event.” Turns out having plenty of sex had built up my tolerance by quite a bit and I was nowhere near ready to cum yet.

‘Slurp’ ‘Pop’ “Haah haah, as you wish Lucan-sama~” With literal hearts in her eyes Mare straddled my waist and without having to be instructed raised her hips in the air and after making sure she was properly lined up, let herself drop engulfing me in one go.

“Aaaah~ L-L-Lucan-samaa's dick~ I can feel Lucan-sama's dick in my belly~ Shoo happy~ I'm shooo happy~”

“Hmhmhm you were watching me and Neuronist have sex last time, weren't you?” I teased grabbing her hips to steady her as she started slamming into my pelvis by herself.

“I-I was~ I couldn't help it. Neuronist looked as if she was enjoying it soo much that I wanted that too. My body got so hot that I couldn't think anymore. I'm sorryy~” Even as she apologized, the kinky elf never stopped slamming her hips into mine just relying on her pure instincts to mate.

“Hahaha who knew our little Mare was such a little pervert~” Slapping her in the ass, I felt her walls suddenly become fucking tight as she let out a loud squeal with her eyes rolling into the back of her head.

“Oh no you don’t.” Seeing that she was close to passing out I slapped her ass again using a bit of magic to give her a shock jolting her awake again and causing another orgasm. “You’re not allowed to pass out before I cum. Understand?”

“Y-Yeeesss. L-Lucan-saaamaaa~”

Too busy enjoying this new side to Mare, I didn’t notice when Aura recovered consciousness and only realized she was awake again when I saw her get behind Mare and hug her from the back.

“Please don’t forget about me Lucan-sama~” Aura was now sporting a pair of heart eyes of her own as she helped her sister impale herself on my dick.

“Wouldn’t dream of it~”

Getting an idea, I flipped us around with me at the foot of the bed now and arranged the twins on top of each other with Aura on top. Then using my powers of transformation, I made another dick appear before lining them up perfectly with their tiny pussies.

“Twins are truly the best~” With a smile splitting my face I thrust in finally accomplishing taking both twins virginities.

“Aaaah Lucan-samaaa~”

“Hoot~ It feels sooo hoooot~”

Looking at the moaning twins below me I mentally checked off twins on my to do list. ‘This is truly the life~’

=====

(5 Days Later)

Leaving a naked and unconscious Fith to rest on my bed after being fucked silly, I made my way to the throne room as the day had finally arrived for our attack on the Black Scripture.

Well, I say our attack when really it would be handled by the others since I couldn't interfere too much in this world personally if I wanted those two IMG tickets from the mission.

Leaving my room Narberal fell into step behind me with a visible blush on her cheeks.

I had been purposefully delaying on taking them to my bed to see if any of them would speak up first. As it was, Solution and Beta seemed the closest to braking and just straight out asking but I would have to wait and see.

Of course, I would not be playing this game forever and if by the end of the month things still remained the same then I would take things into my own hands.

Before too long we reached the throne room where everyone was already waiting for my arrival and took a seat on my throne.

"You may rise."

Doing as instructed Demiurge took the lead and addressed me first. "We were just waiting for your arrival before departing Lucan-sama. Is there anything you require of us while we are away?"

"No but if there's something that comes up, I can always inform you later through the Shroud I granted you. It is unblockable, untraceable and distance is meaningless."

"Marvelous~ Your gift just keeps on getting better and better Lucan-sama. We swear to live up to your expectations of us!"

Ignoring all the praise Demiurge's comment caused I wished those that I had given a mission good luck and watched as they left to their tasks.

"Albedo, set up the Mirror of Remote Viewing." Following my orders, I relaxed on my seat with Albedo and Cortana at my side and we watched Demiurge's group.

Why go through the trouble of working such a tricky magical artefact when you can just have your subordinates do it for you?

It didn't take too long before we saw Demiurge's group arrive at the appointed location and we finally saw their forms appear in the mirror.

"It begins." I muttered with a smirk.

=====

(Demiurge's POV)

Up on a cliff there could be seen the form of four figures as they waited patiently for something.

"They are here, as expected of Lucan-sama's power." It was truly such a marvelous power. The ability to locate anyone without fail in any world was truly a magnificent power only worthy to be possessed by one as great as Lucan-sama.

"I'm beyond grateful that Lucan-sama found worth in us and decided to stay with us." The voice of Shalltear commented passionately from somewhere to his left.

"I-I agree too~"

"..."

"Alright everyone, Lucan-sama is watching our performance so let's be sure we don't fail him." Turning to the others Demiurge reminded them of how important this mission was causing all of them to become serious.

Even the previously emotionless Rubedo couldn't help but frown at the thought of failing their master.

After all they had been created by the Supreme Ones and if they could not be of use to the only one that had stayed behind for them, then they would have no purpose to continue existing.

There was something that made Demiurge somewhat curious though as he looked down at their opponents.

'Up this close, one of them should have noticed us by now but that is somehow not the case. Could it be that the power gifted to us by Lucan-sama also shields us from being discovered?'

Wanting to test his theory Demiurge turned to Rubedo who immediately noticed his eyes on her and looked at him blankly.

“Rubedo, would you mind testing out a theory of mine? It has to do with the shroud Lucan-sama gifted all of us.” Knowing that the only reason Rubedo was even willing to listen to his orders right now was because she had been ordered to do so by Lucan-sama, he made sure to mention him.

As expected as soon as the name of their Master left his lips, Rubedo’s eyes narrowed in attention before she nodded her head. “Yes.”

“I want you to hide yourself using your stealth skill before approaching the group all the while keeping notice if any of them notice you. If you manage to get close enough, I want you to focus on their leader and kill him or if you are discovered I want you to launch an attack on all of them. That will be the signal before we join you.”

“I have reason to believe there is a lot more abilities that Lucan-sama gifted us that he left for us to discover by ourselves.” He still remembered when their Lord had explained to them their now endless stores of mana.

“You mean like when Lucan-sama told us that he gifted us with infinite mana?” Mare was quick to catch on to what he was saying causing him to nod in response.

“Hmph, as expected of our Lord and Master~” Shalltear boasted happily.

“...Very well.” That was the only words he received before Rubedo turned invisible and launched herself into the air in the direction of the incoming Black Scripture.

“Be on alert everyone, whether Rubedo succeeds or not, we will be attacking regardless.” He didn’t need to look back to know his fellow Guardians were ready.

They watched silently as Rubedo made it within 100 feet of their enemy without being discovered before that soon turned to 50 feet causing him to smirk.

‘I knew it! We are truly not worthy of your generosity Lucan-sama.’

A moment later they jumped into action when they saw Rubedo shove her entire arm through the leader of the Black Scripture tearing his heart out before immediately crushing it.

‘This world will be yours Lucan-sama. We swear it!’
