

Chapter 12: Clumsy Metamorphmagus

"Ugh, how do you get yourself into these situations Tonks?"

Staying as still as I could lest I incur the wrath of the girl on top of me, I waited for Tonks to make the first move.

Moments later I watched as her perky ass finally removed itself from my face before losing sight of it as the school skirt soon covered it. The girl's hair shifted through a variety of colors before settling on pink as she dusted herself off and made sure that her skirt covered everything before turning around to face me.

Still feeling embarrassed I nonetheless took in the figure of Nymphadora Tonks for the first time. She had a beautiful face with full lips, thin eyebrows, a small button nose and a set of dark green eyes that matched well with her pink hair.

"Tsk, are you going to continue staring at me all day or are you planning to lie there like an idiot?" Tonks asked with a raised eyebrow looking slightly amused with her flustered tone from before nowhere to be seen.

'I can see why so many fans now had a crush on Tonks. She's hot.' I thought privately before shaking those thoughts and getting back to my feet.

"Sorry about that." I immediately apologized scratching the back of my head and looking off to the side a bit still feeling embarrassed.

"Forget about it. It was an accident so let's just leave it at that." Tonks dismissed with a shake of her head, her hair turning red for a second before it changed back. "Anyways, I don't think I've seen you before. You a firstie?"

"Yeah, Aether Cordelia nice to meet you." I greeted offering the girl a smile doing as she asked and moving on from the topic.

"Wotcher, names Tonks. Just Tonks." Tonks greeted grabbing my hand and shaking it once all the while stressing her last name when she saw me raise an eyebrow.

"Right."

"Well see you around Aether. I still gotta find a good place to practice." Tonks said in dismissal finally breaking eye contact with me making me blink in realization that she had not stopped staring at my eyes since we first started talking.

'I see. So, it's not that she was not affected by Love Spot, she could just disguise it better thanks to being a Metamorphmagus.' I thought in understanding.

"Wait, if it's a private room you're looking for maybe I could help?" I offered before she could walk away causing her to pause and focus on me again. "Consider this my apology for you know, running into you and all?"

"Hoh, so a firstie believes that he knows the castle better than me?" Tonks asked with a raised eyebrow and a teasing smile on her face.

"Absolutely." I responded with a confident grin on my face. "How about a wager?"

"Hmhmhm you sure seem confident. Fine then, what are the stakes?" Tonks said with a chuckle probably just going along with me thinking I would lose.

"If I can find a place where you can practice in secret then you teach me a few spells. If I can't then...Hmm I don't know. What do you want?" I offered before looking at her curiously.

"You're leaving it to me huh? Huhuhu okay how about you become my little minion for the rest of the year and do anything I say?" Tonks asked with a big smirk on her face as if taunting me thinking I would immediately back off.

"Deal." I said extending my hand again wanting to shake on it causing her to blink as I didn't back down.

"It's your loss kid." Tonks said with a grin while shaking my hand again sealing her fate.

"Follow me then." I said heading in the direction of ROR not worried about Tonks running into the girls since they spent most of the day lazing around in their vivarium.

About ten minutes later we made it to the seventh floor and went inside the room once me made sure there was nobody watching.

"So, what do you think?" I asked with a smirk enjoying the look on Tonks face as she beheld the Room of Requirement.

"What is this place? And how did you ever come about it?" Tonks muttered with wide eyes as she swiveled her head around the room.

"This is the Room of Requirement or the Come and Go Room and the elves told me." I lied with a shrug.

"Well color me impressed. I definitely didn't know about this room." Tonks said walking around the room and touching a desk trying to see if it was actually real.

"Does that mean I win our little bet then?" I asked with a cheeky smirk only to dodge out of the way of a tickling spell sent my way by the punk girl.

"No one likes a smartass but yeah, I'll teach you a thing or two." Tonks said sounding as if she couldn't be bothered but never dropping the smile on her face as she found a training dummy and was currently inspecting it.

"Thanks."

"Hahaha in fact why don't we get started on it right away with a duel between you and me? I need to know what I need to teach you after all." Tonks asked with a smirk on her face sending me a look that promised pain.

'Yep. She's definitely still mad about what happened earlier.'

=====

(Minutes Later)

"Again!? Really!?" Tonks yelled in embarrassment.

'That's my line!' I thought getting a face full of pink again only this time I was the only one affected as Tonks was currently straddling my face with my mouth being muffled by her slightly damp knickers. 'What the fuck, she's a total klutz.'

The duel had started out fine with me being forced to dodge the barrage of different spells sent my way by the smirking Tonks just managing to do so due to the close proximity.

Tonks had quickly picked up that she wasn't getting anywhere with that so she had changed her tactics and started moving as well forcing me to adapt. For several minutes I had to dodge, weave and run all along the RoR wincing here and there when something else was broken.

That was when everything went to hell or heaven depending on how you look at it.

Tonks had used the Incarcerous Spell to conjure some ropes in an attempt to hold me in place and it had worked. I found my feet bound and fell to the ground landing on my back. Tonks who was behind me, had ended up tripping on my feet and here we now were.

Finding that I was starting to run out of breath, I started moving my face back and forth in a silent attempt to get Tonks off of me only making the situation worse.

"Aahh~ S-stop moviing damn it!" Tonks let out a moan unconsciously tightening her thighs around my head.

"Mmn mmmnn." I attempted to talk this time, asking her to 'get off' only for my voice to come out muffled.

In the back of my teenage mind, I absently noticed how my actions had caused her knickers to become increasingly damp with arousal.

Thankfully after a few more moments of struggling, I was finally able to push Tonks off my face and began taking in deep breaths trying to get oxygen back into my lungs.

"Haah haah geez Tonks, were you trying to kill me just now?" I asked still out of breath still laid out in the floor.

"S-shut up! It's not my fault, alright!?" Tonks yelled back in embarrassment not even looking my direction.

"I can't believe you're such a klutz." I muttered with a sigh getting back to my feet.

"What was that, you punk?" Tonks asked finally turning to me with a glare in her face that was ruined by the dark blush coloring her cheeks.

"Nothing." I shook my head then used the back of my sleeve to clean my mouth since it was somewhat wet with Tonks arousal.

From the corner of my eye, I saw as Tonk's hair turned a deep red and her blush spread all the way to her ears as she watched me before turning away again.

"A-anyways. That will be all for today. I-I'll send you an owl or something when I have free time and we can meet up. Later." Tonks suddenly said in a rush before all but running out of the RoR.

Once I was sure I was alone again I couldn't help but let out a chuckle at how my first meeting with Tonks had turned out.

"I feel as if I'm in some sort of cheap Ecchi anime or something with everything that happened today. Haah, at least I was able to Stamp her this time." I let out a small chuckle before pulling out my Company Phone and seeing the countdown next to Tonks name.

"If this is how our interactions are going to go, I wonder how long it will take before we just end up fucking after one of our training sessions?" I thought aloud knowing that the Stamp will only speed things along.

=====

(Two Months Later, March)

"Hey Aether! Isn't that Athena?" The voice of Padma asked to my left as we were having breakfast in the Great Hall.

Looking up I spotted my beautiful owl flying down towards me with a letter held tightly in its beak. Swooping down she elegantly landed in front of me and presented me the letter.

"Thanks girl." I said taking the letter from her beak and gently petting her with my other hand getting a pleased hoot from her.

"Hello Athena! Want some bacon?" greeted Rose with a smile as she held out a piece of bacon.

Athena, like all previous times this occurred, completely ignored Rose as she focused all of her attention on me getting Rose to pout and making the others chuckle in amusement. Rose had been trying to get into Athena's good graces since she met her but just like now, she had failed every time. It was not just Rose either, Athena would not let anybody that wasn't myself pet or feed her.

"Give up Rose. Athena only loves me and no one else." I said teasingly while I read my weekly letter from Ginny recognizing her handwriting by this point while I pampered my familiar.

"I'll get her to like me one of these days. You'll see." said Rose with a slight huff turning her head to the side.

"Who are you always writing to? I've seen you reading letters with that handwriting almost since term started?" asked Padma in curiosity.

"Just a friend that I made over the summer. You'll be able to meet them next year when they start Hogwarts." I responded without looking up from the letter.

"I see, and are they a girl perhaps?" Su Li asked with a teasing smile on her face.

Being in the same house, I had become acquainted with most of my peers with Su Li and Padma Patil being the two I was closest to besides Rose.

Looking up I saw Rose also paying attention now even if she was pretending not to by looking down at her food but would look in my direction from time to time.

"Yep, she's been lonely all year so I thought I'd try to help her out a bit by having someone to talk to." I said with a shrug.

It had been two months since my encounter with Tonks and the atmosphere at Hogwarts had thankfully not changed since then making it feel like an actual boarding school for once. Even Dumbledore had finally settled down somewhat looking more relaxed compared to before. It helped that no ominous news had been heard about the noseless fucker.

I had spent the last months mostly training the girls and having one on one training sessions with Tonks. Thankfully not all of our meetings ended up the same as the first but that didn't mean it didn't happen at all.

Most often than not, we would find ourselves in compromising positions at the end of our training sessions that I had given up trying to anticipate for them. Not that I tried really hard of course, being a teenager and all.

It had come to the point that Tonks would not even feel embarrassed anymore and would instead hang her head in dismay afterwards as she apologized for her clumsiness.

At least I got to learn a lot of spells from her so that was another positive. With more spells under my repertoire, our dueling sessions were no longer me just running and avoiding everything she threw at me and I could properly retaliate back.

Finishing reading Ginny's letter, I put it away glad that she seemed to be doing okay even if she was a little lonely.

"How about we go out by the Black Lake and relax a little. I want to get a little fresh air after all the time we spent with our nose in a book this week." I suggested turning to Rose.

"I could use some fresh air myself." said Rose agreeing immediately.

"Mind if I come too?" asked Padma.

"Sure." I nodded my head seeing no problem with it.

"Thanks~"

Turning to the Gryffindor table we invited Ron, Harry and Hermione along with Parvati asking to come too which we accepted. As a group we made our way out of the castle with Daphne joining us on the way after meeting her in the hallways and headed to the Black Lake.

We spent the remainder of the day until dinner talking and playing various wizard and muggle games and just generally having fun.

=====

(Mid-May 1992)

'Yep, totally called it.' I thought with my eyes closed as I leaned back against the sofa I was sitting on.

Today I found myself in the RoR just having a lazy day having nothing to do with my homework all done and with term about to end in a few weeks.

With my Template and all the training I was doing lately, school had become slightly monotonous if I was being honest. I was already way ahead of my peers and instead of constantly training I had decided to take a step back and just relax since I had the chance to do so.

I was pulled from my thoughts as a moan escaped my lips.

(Small Lime)

'She's certainly eager today.' I thought in pleasure opening my eyes again.

Looking down between my legs, I saw a pair of violet eyes and a head of pink hair bobbing her head up and down on my uncovered dick. When she noticed I was looking at her she popped my dick out of her mouth and gave it a teasingly slow lick while smirking at me when she noticed my reaction before putting it back in her mouth and resuming her fellatio.

Before too long I eventually cummed down her throat and watched in arousal as Tonks swallowed it all down without wasting a single drop. When my orgasm finally stopped, she spent the next few moments licking me clean lovingly before popping me out of her mouth and looking at me with a hooded look in her eyes while biting her lip.

Seeing I had her attention she crawled away from me and got up from her kneeling position. Then she slowly turned around and walked to the single sofa in front of us and grabbing ahold of the arm rests with both hands and loaned down presenting her skirt clad ass to me.

Looking at me over her shoulder she slowly and intentionally ran her hand down her body before coming to rest over her skirt before flipping it over showing me her already drenched black knickers.

Tonks then grabbed her lace knickers and pulled them to the side showing me her dripping pink pussy as she bit her lip.

"Aether...hurry!" pleaded Tonks further teasing me by shaking her ass back and forth.

I smirked and stood up myself before walking behind her and giving Tonk's right ass cheek a firm slap getting a moan from her. Then grabbing my still hard dick I teasingly rubbed the tip of it with Tonk's pussy lips purposefully avoiding entering her for now.

"Mmn Aether...Please~" pleaded Tonks with a needy voice as she tried to impale herself on my dick and only got more frustrated when I stopped her.

"So needy..." I teased as I gave her another slap on her other ass cheek. "You know what you have to say~"

"Mmn please fuck me Master~ Please pound this needy pussy with your big and fat cock until I can no longer walk." pleaded Tonks giving in immediately and shaking her shapely ass at me again.

Not waiting any further I grabbed ahold of Tonk's wide hips before thrusting my whole length in her tiny pussy in one go.

I was thankful for the privacy the room offered as Tonks released a pleased scream at my actions that would have normally gotten us discovered immediately. The pleased screams didn't diminish for hours into the night where I took Tonks in every possible position around the room I could think of.

(Lime End)

We finally left back to our common rooms after a soft kiss and a promise to do it again next week. While walking back to my common room I thought back to when my relationship with Tonks had suddenly evolved.

About a month ago after our usual spar Tonks being her clumsy self, once again landed us in a compromising position. This time however Tonks had somehow been able to pants me before we tripped and ending up just like the day we first met.

My dick ended up being freed from my boxers in our tumble and Tonks had landed with her face literally right in front of it. A fact that she immediately noticed when she regained her bearings and lifted her head.

Thinking nothing of it at first other than being a bit embarrassed/irritated at Tonk's clumsy nature, I was taken aback when I felt something wet and slightly rough lick my junk.

After getting over my shock, things had just escalated from there and before we knew it, we ended up screwing like rabbits for the remainder of the day.

Tonks had been super embarrassed and mortified when things had finally settled down probably thinking that she had taken advantage of me or something. It had taken me coming clean with her about this being my second life before she finally calmed down.

Our meetings after that would now always end with us fucking, so much so that Maya, Ilulu and the other girls had been getting increasingly jealous lately.

'I have a feeling I'm going to be very busy this summer.' I thought feeling a cold sweat at the back of my neck when I saw the look Maya gave me when we went to bed that night.
