

Chapter 3: A Little Work Before Fun Times

I stayed silent and observed as everyone was now looking at Victim, Cocytus and Rubedo with a look of wonder on their face at what they probably assumed was a byproduct of accepting my power.

“As you can see my power has not only the ability of restoration but alteration as well.” Almost as if they were waiting to hear that, my new minions began clapping in awe at my feat.

“Let me say one more thing to those that have had their form altered.” Directing my gaze towards those affected I continued.

“The new form you have now is permanent. However, that doesn’t mean your old form is forever lost but instead you will be able to change between forms at will. I granted you this new form in order for you to blend in if the need requires it. Most sentient beings we will encounter in the future are humanoids so I’m sure this will be helpful to you down the line.”

Confirming my words Cocytus was the first to revert back to his original form. Curiously all the females chose stay in their new forms but I just mentally shook my head knowing it was probably them picking up my unconscious desires through the Shroud.

“Such a marvelous gift! We are truly blessed to have you here leading us Lucan-sama.” I heard Demiurge praise me again which I just decided to ignore as it was becoming too repetitive.

“Now, you all have tasks to do. Get to them! As for myself, I will be busy granting my power to the remaining denizens of Nazarick. If you need something make sure to ‘Message’ me. Dismissed.” I waved my hand at them giving them the permission to leave.

I was about to teleport myself to the remaining targets when I heard a soft voice speak to the side of me.

“Lucan-sama, may I please accompany you?”

Turning to the voice I saw Rubedo looking at me with her normal blank expression. Actually, now that I took a closer look while her face didn’t express a single emotion, her big green eyes did. Thanks to Conjunction I could even tell that she was feeling nervous yet hopeful at accompanying me.

The image of a puppy wagging its tail waiting for her master to take her on a walk came to the forefront of my mind while looking at her.

“Of course, Rubedo. Come let us depart.” I smiled and patted her head again before using ‘Gate’ to get us where we needed to go.

“Thank you.” It was a bit humorous seeing her skip beside me without any expression on her face betraying her true feelings.

=====

Two hours later I was finally done binding everyone on the Guild.

‘That took longer than I expected.’ I sighed silently now back on the 9th floor after having dropped off Rubedo in the 8th floor. Though that didn’t mean I was left alone as Narberal had appeared beside me minutes after Rubedo departed. I just went along with it and didn’t say anything knowing how adamant they were at not leaving me alone.

Besides, the sooner I could handle the matters of keeping the Tomb secured from invaders, the sooner I can start mol-ahem enjoying my time with them.

“Hmm I better check in on Mare and see if everything is going well. Let’s go Narberal.” Without waiting for acknowledgement knowing she would follow anyway, I teleported to the entrance of the tomb.

Like in canon some of the Evil Lords were guarding the entrance to the tomb with Demiurge appearing seconds later after sensing my presence and bowing to me.

“Lucan-sama. As expected of a ruler, your attention to detail is impeccable. Please allow me to accompany you.”

“Very well.” I agreed and continued my way outside.

“Thank you very much for accepting my selfishness.” With another thanks Demiurge stood up and followed along beside Narberal.

I took to the skies with the use of my Shroud flying above the clouds and was taken aback by the beautiful scene before me. Seeing it in anime was one thing but to see the real thing with my own eyes was mesmerizing. Perhaps even more so as the last world was very polluted and seeing stars in the sky was rare.

Yet here I could see them all. A vast cosmos was ahead of me with nebulas spread across the sky.

“Beautiful. Did you know that almost every star you see up in the sky is a sun with its own set of planets orbiting around it? New planets to explore, new mysteries to unfold and new enemies to fight. An eternal adventure.” I commented softly still mesmerized by the beauty around me.

“Lucan-sama, how many different planets have you explored other than Yggdrasil?” I heard Demiurge ask from behind me.

“Counting this one it will be 3. A low number in the grand scheme of things but I have already learned and experienced many new things thanks to that and that number will only grow with time.”

‘Along with the number of hot girls I can bend to my will.’ That last thought I kept it to myself of course not wanting to give the game away.

“I believe this world exists so that my lord can adorn himself with its riches and knowledge. If you wish it, we will use all the forces of Nazarick to obtain it for you.”

There it was. I was wondering if this line would come up in our conversation as things were already very different from canon. However, world domination was never my thing, or at least now it wasn't. I would be living for millions of years so who knows what future me would do.

“World domination huh? While an interesting idea it is a pointless endeavor. It would mean that we would be forced to remain here for an undetermined amount of time due to conflicts with the rulers already in charge or any other problems that appear.” I shook my head to disavow any ideas from taking root in his mind.

‘Why the fuck would I want to rule over a bunch of rowdy npcs anyway when I can just have my way with all the girls that catch my attention before moving on to the next world?’

“My true goal for this world is different. Something I will share with all of you in the morning.” I gave my final on the matter before looking down at the tomb.

“Understood!” Demiurge and Narberal answered in unison.

“Mare is hard at work I see. Let's go see how she's doing shall we?” I flew down without waiting for a response with Demiurge and Narberal following me a second later.

Landing on a pillar I took notice that Mare was already done covering the tomb with dirt and vegetation but the dummy hills had yet to be completed.

“Lord Lucan!” Mare suddenly yelled happily when she saw me and ran towards where we landed all the while doing her best to prevent her skirt from flipping up and flashing us.

“Why are you here? Did I make a mistake?” Mare expression dimmed at her second question with her elven ears drooping down.

“No, Mare. Your work to prevent others from finding Nazarick is very important. I just wanted to know how you were doing.” I smiled and ruffled her hair a little getting a blush and a happy smile from her.

‘Elves are just too lewd, I swear.’ Mare was currently letting out some not very kid friendly moans at the simple act of me touching her hair. Imagine how she’d react if I touched or licked her ears? That had to be a thing, right?

Yep. Definitely was and if it wasn’t, I had a bunch of sex perks to make it one.

“Mmmn I’m doing great Lucan-sama~ The power of the shroud you granted me has given a huge boost to all my Druid skills and for some reason I don’t feel as if I have used any magic at all.” The elf girl was barely able to get out while looking flushed.

“I see, that’s good. About what I had expected from you seeing as you have a very high affinity for the Jungle Shroud.” I nodded and pretended not to notice how the girl was now fidgeting in place while letting out small pants.

“As for why you don’t feel any drain in magic? That’s one of the abilities you all gained that I was keeping as a secret to surprise all of you with in the future.” I smirked teasingly looking at all of them.

I saw all three of the widen their eyes in surprise.

“I suppose as a reward for Mare doing such good work, I don’t mind letting you know. To put it simply every being that I share my power with now has infinite stores of magic and stamina. While your reserves of magic remain the same, they will never lower no matter how much magic you use and will eventually grow in quantity over time.” I explained to them the wonders of the Inexhaustible with a smirk.

“N-never run out of magic? T-that’s simply amazing Lucan-sama! To think that you had this power the whole time.” Mare exclaimed in joy, snapping out of her little trance for a moment at such knowledge.

“Lucan-sama, at this rate we will never be able to repay you for your endless generosity. However, we vow to try regardless by offering our entire existence as your loyal servants.” Demiurge dropped to one knee suddenly with the others following.

"We vow." Mare and Narberal repeated now with tears in their eyes overcome with emotion.

'Good~ Cuz none of you are going anywhere!' I was thankful for their current positions as it prevented them from seeing the smirk in my face.

"Like I said before. Continue to serve faithfully and that will be reward enough. Now rise." With practiced ease I acknowledged their vow once again hoping that they would mellow out a bit over time.

I turned towards the still empty plains around us waiting for the others to rise before addressing them.

"Hmm, I know I said to make some dummy hills but I have a better idea. Mind if I try something Mare?" I turned towards the cute dark elf who only shook her head in denial.

"I-I don't mind at all Lucan-sama."

"Very well now remain where you are. This should only take a moment." I jumped into the air before stopping and levitating there once I was about 20m from the ground.

Thanks to all the credits I had gained for selling all the members of Nazarick I had been able to buy a bunch of Templates, they only being 20 credits a piece thanks to an Intensity setting. I had bought a Template for Alex Mercer, Kusanagi Godou, Suzuki Ichirou, Dante, Vergil, Sung Jinwoo, Kurosaki Ichigo, Michael (Supernatural), Lucifer (Supernatural), Daedalus (Sora no Otoshimo), Otsutsuki Hagoromo, Son Goku, Superboy Prime, Rimuru Tempest, Rimuru Tempest (Demon Lord), Rimuru Tempest (True Dragon), Sosuke Aizen (Hogyoku) and Han Jihan.

Yeah...I might have gone a bit overboard with the Templates. Ahem, moving on when you added me being already at tier 9 due to having Momonga's power and buying his SWP, one could say that I felt very confident about myself.

Switching to Hagoromo's template, I closed my eyes, brought my hands together in a prayer motion and concentrated my chakra. I was thankful I didn't have to weave any hand seals when commanding my chakra thanks to Hagoromo making the process faster so once I had gathered the sufficient amount and changed its nature to earth, I opened my eyes and raised my hands to the sky.

With a great rumble the very earth raised to the sky following my command and forming hills all around us. In a few seconds the rumbling stopped and I lowered my hands, my job complete. Then I slowly descended to the ground and joined the others who were clapping at my performance.

"Amazing Lucan-sama! Are you also a druid?" Mare asked with an excited smile in her face.

“Indeed. If I may be so bold to ask? Does the current form of your eyes have anything to do with the feat you just performed?” Demiurge asked with curiosity while looking at my eyes.

“Thank you, Mare. As to your question, no I am not. These eyes of mine allow me the ability to see through all illusions. They are called Sharingan, the Copy Wheel Eye or the eye that reflects the heart if you prefer.” I recited from memory automatically to an eagerly listening audience.

“Though these eyes are just the first of three evolutions they will undergo with the last evolution being called the Rinnegan. The eyes of Samsara or the eyes of God. Does that answer your question, Demiurge?”

“It does. Thank you for gracing us with your knowledge Lucan-sama.” He was smiling now, no doubt ridiculous thoughts going through his head.

“Mn it’s of no concern. The art and science of asking questions is the source of all knowledge.” I mentally shrugged giving them a random quote I remembered hearing one time.

“As expected of your great wisdom Lucan-sama!” Demiurge praised.

Mare and Narberal only clapped in agreement at the demon’s words almost making me roll my eyes. At this rate I’m going to start ignoring all praise coming my way in order for conversations to move along faster.

“Now one last thing to do before heading in for the night. Create High Tier Undead: Eternal Death.” Turning away from them I created one of my new summon from the abilities I acquired from Momonga.

From the ground in front of us a shadowy figure arose covered from head to toe in dark garments hiding its identity. The figure immediately dropped into a knee and bowed before me.

“What is your command, Lucan-sama?” Even its voice sounded ambiguous making it hard to tell the true gender of the figure if not for my innate abilities.

“I need you to find someone for me and bring them back here unharmed. Nobody is to be made aware of your presence. Kill anyone that attempts to stop you.” I ordered to the summon only getting a deeper bow in return.

“Now hold still, I shall empower you further.” My Shroud extended from my body and wrapped around my new familiar before retreating a few seconds later.

Then I took a few minutes to explain how to pull up the Hud and how to track targets in it. After showing them the target, they were tracking I dismissed them with a wave of my hand aware the others had heard and seen everything I just did.

"I'm sure all of you have questions as to what just transpired now but there is a reason behind all of this. As I just explained to Demiurge, there are still many things that I need inform you of but I held back due to the situation we find ourselves in." I began walking back towards the tomb while still talking forcing the others to follow along.

"Tomorrow I will let everyone know about my current plans for this world as well as explaining a little more about the powers you received from me. Mare make sure not to overwork yourself. Narberal, Demiurge you're dismissed for the night, I'm heading to bed." With nothing more to say I teleported to my personal bedroom missing their response.

Reaching my bed, I stopped before it as I saw a figure moving under the covers.

Letting a smirk grace my face, I pulled down the covers revealing the figure of a naked Shalltear furiously masturbating while moaning out my name.

'Now this is the life!' Not wasting anytime my clothes, which had become part of my Shroud now, receded from my body and I joined the vampire in bed.

=====

(Third-Person POV)

"T-that was a little scary. When he looked at us with those new eyes of his I thought I was going to be crushed under the intense pressure they were releasing. Also, that new technique he demonstrated..." Mare commented out loud.

"Ah, so you also caught that as well Mare. Indeed, more proof of Lucan-sama being even greater than we imagined. How fascinating!" Demiurge commented with an excited grin.

"Forgive this ignorant one but what about the new technique was interesting?" Narberal spoke with a curious look on her face.

"There was no mana used in the technique at all yet it was strong enough to raise all of these hills almost instantly. His eyes also didn't give off any mana but with just looking at them I can tell that they hold unfathomable power." Mare spoke with a rare moment of seriousness taking over her beautiful face.

"I see. Thank you for the information. I am honored to learn more about Lucan-sama from you." Narberal responded with a bow.

“Let us return to our duties everyone. Let us show Lucan-sama our appreciation by working our hardest in these unforeseen circumstances.” Demiurge suddenly clapped grabbing the other’s attention.

“Yes! / At once!”

=====

(Regular POV, Lemon)

“Nyyaaaahhh~ Lucaaann-saamaa~”

Looking up at the naked figure of Shalltear as she bounced on my dick with the lewdest look, I had ever seen anyone make yet, I couldn’t help but once again be grateful for my new life.

Here I was fucking an actual vampire that was crazy for my dick and would be down to do anything I wanted with no questions asked.

Slapping the vampire in the ass with my right hand I was rewarded for my efforts with a moan as I felt her walls become extremely tight as she cummed again managing to hold off from releasing myself.

“Aaaaahhhh~ Please impregnate me Maaassteerrr~ Give mee your precious seed~” She pleaded with her eyes rolled to the back of her head and her mouth hanging from her mouth.

Ignoring her I sat up and maneuvered us until Shalltear was on all fours and I was standing behind her. “Time for me to take your last virginity Shalltear.” Spreading her as cheeks I got a better view of her rosebud and prodded it lightly with my thumb.

“Y-Yes Masteeer~ It’s all yoursss~”

“Hmhmhm I got a better idea~” Using my many abilities from my many templates, I grew a second dick. Then grabbing Shalltear by the hips I thrust forward without any warning. “Yeeah, much betten nn.”

“Nyaaaaa~ T-Two dicks! Masteeer is fucking mee with two aah diickss~” The little pervert loved it of course and immediately cummed again with her back contorting backward in pleasure.

“You like it? ‘smack’” Grabbing her hair roughly I pulled on it not afraid of hurting her due to how strong she was all the while I kept up my pace not giving her a chance to rest.

Slurring her words, the pervert just got even more excited at my rough treatment of her pushing her hips back to meet my thrusts. “I-I aah I-loveee iittt Masteeer~ Please giive mee moore~”

“Oh, don’t worry. We’re just beginning~”

(End of Lemon)

We didn’t stop fucking for the rest of the night and well into the morning when a jealous Albedo interrupted us.
