

Chapter 5: New Face of Torture

Arriving back at Nazarick with my two new cute maids in tow through the use of Gate, I turned around and addressed Lupusregina.

“Beta, take Enri and Nemu to Pestonia and tell her to start training them as maids. Make sure to tell her to keep Nemu’s tasks simple and give them plenty of brakes.” I instructed with a commanding tone switching back to my ruler persona for a moment.

“At once.”

Giving the redhead a nod, I dropped my serious tone and gave the nervous girls a smile succeeding in making them relax a bit. They were probably overwhelmed at the change in scenery since we were currently in the throne room if their wondering eyes was any indication.

“This is where I unfortunately leave you Enri, Nemu. Don’t worry, you’ll be in great hands with Pestonia and the other maids.”

“If there is anything you need, make sure to let me know. You are now my responsibility as well.” I laid it on pretty thick playing as the nice guy knowing that soon enough those pretty faces would also be serving me just like the other maids.

Enri, the naïve girl she still was, could do nothing but blush in embarrassment and bow her head. “T-thank you again for taking us in and offering us a home and work, Vergil-sama. I will try my hardest to repay your kindness.”

“Thank you.”

Patting Nemu on the head I resisted the urge to smirk. “I’m sure you will. Off you go now.”

Taking that as her cue, Beta was quick to usher the girls out of the throne room leaving me alone.

My smile instantly vanished as soon as they did and concentrating for a moment I disappeared again, reappearing behind a cute girl with purple hair that was too busy torturing someone to notice my presence.

The girl while beautiful had the upper body of a human and the lower body of a squid with 10 tentacles. Her skin was also pale white and while I couldn’t see them right now, she had a pair of violet eyes. Lastly for clothing she was wearing a skimpy leather outfit that just managed to cover her huge breasts and came down to her thighs.

She also had the ability to turn all of her tentacles into regular human looking legs but preferred to have all of her tentacles out since it apparently more comfortable that way.

As for the identity of the girl, this was of course...

"Neuronist, how goes the interrogation?"

It had to be done. There was no fucking way I was ever going to be able to look at her with her previous appearance and the fact that she would be gunning for me made me want to puke hence the change.

Startled at my voice, Neuronist immediately dropped what she was doing to that blonde dude from the Theocracy and turned to greet me with a delighted smile on her face.

"Lucan-sama~" She exclaimed before pulling me in for a hug and wrapping some of her tentacles around me. "I feel truly blessed to have the Lord of all of Nazarick come and pay little old me a visit."

Chuckling I shamelessly coped a feel of her breasts with one hand while with the other I gave her ass a squeeze only getting delighted moans in return. 'Damn do I love being me.'

"Work first and play later." Not caring about how much of a hypocrite I was being right now since what I said was basically law to these guys, I continued to play with her body.

Neuronist explained what she had managed to get so far from her victim all the while trying to hold in her moans.

"Hmm would you mind if I gave it a try?" With my many different abilities it would be but a simple matter in getting everything from the man.

"Mmn be my guest Lucan-sama aah~ It will bring me nothing but joy watching you torture that human." She let out in short pants with her breasts now uncovered before shuddering in my arms when I pinched one of her nipples.

Sadly letting go of her giant breasts for now, I waited until she let go of me after just cumming and stepped forward willing my Primal Shroud to appear as I did.

Not even looking at the panicking blonde before me once he saw the writhing tentacles made out of flesh floating behind me, I mercilessly had it surround the man and closed my eyes.

Within moments all of the man's memories came flooding into my mind once he was captured before I recreated his body and sold him since he was no longer useful.

"Haah it's always a pain having to sort through all of their memories." I complained quietly and opened my eyes again seeing Neuronist looking at me in fascination.

"If I may be so bold Lucan-sama. Just what did you do exactly?" She looked really eager to know too.

"I have the ability to devour beings and acquire their skills, special abilities, items tied to their soul and all of their memories." I boasted with a casual shrug of my shoulders getting her to clap excitedly.

I was not even exaggerating either. Thanks to my Alex Mercer TS, Rimuru Tempest TS, Primal Shroud and lastly thanks to my Psychopomp heritage that all benefitted from each other and worked in tandem.

"Simply marvelous~ As expected of Lucan-sama~" Neuronist swooned in place with her body moving in ways that would be impossible for a normal human to accomplish.

"It was only so quick because you had already broken his will Neuronist. So, for your help what do you want as a reward?" I was just thankful that my mind just blanked out all the ass kissing at this point else it might have gotten annoying.

"I couldn't pos-"

Stopping her rant about not wanting any kind of reward quickly with a raised hand, I made myself clearer. "I say you deserve a reward so let's hear it?"

Thinking about it for a few seconds Neuronist took off the rest of skimpy outfit as she had never bothered to cover her breasts again and looked at me with a blush. "If it's not too bold of me to ask, I wish you to breed me Lucan-sama~"

'Score!' Letting a smile grace my face I let my Shroud dissolve all of my clothes before opening up a Gate to my private quarters.

"Let us get started then~"

Giggling in a disturbing way, Neuronist was quick to walk into the portal with me quickly following after her.

Stepping out of the portal I saw that Neuronist was already seated at the edge of the bed with her tentacles spread out revealing that she did indeed have a normal pussy underneath.

Not that I ever had a doubt of course with the Company being run by a bunch of perverted freaks.

Stepping up to the woman I stopped just before her and grabbed ahold of my dick and directed it towards her small opening getting a small moan in return at the physical contact.

Then without waiting for permission I pulled back a bit and thrust my member all in one go feeling that while slightly slimy, it was just like any other pussy.

“Aaaahh~ Lucan-saaamaa~” Her whole body arched forward as she climaxed on the spot and I felt a rush of juices cover my dick just making it easier for me to move in in spite of how tight it got.

“You asked for this.” I teased and not letting her rest I started thrusting away feeling a tentacle wrap around my leg and another around my stomach that kept me from pulling out all the way and helped in my trusts.

“Mnnyyaaa~ So good~ I finally get to experience what those tramps did.”

“All the women in Nazarick belong to me so it was only a matter of time.” I muttered uncaringly before leaning down and grabbing ahold of her giant breasts and using them as handles to go even faster.

“O-of course we are. Lucaan-samaa is the coolest so I wouldn’t even dream about someone else touching mee.” She let out deliriously with her tongue sticking out of her mouth and her eyes slightly rolled to the back of her head.

“Make sure to keep it that way.” I growled and pinched one of her nipples harshly only getting a louder moan in return. “I’m a possessive man and I completely despise the idea of sharing what’s mine.”

“Hyeeeeek.” She must have enjoyed that because I felt her cum again while letting out a loud squeal. “O-of course Lucan-sama~ As you command~”

Pleased at her response I let myself cum and filled her to the brim with my seed triggering another orgasm from the woman.

Not finished with her yet I pulled away watching with satisfaction as my cum leaked from her pussy before grabbing her roughly by the hair and bringing her in front of my cock. "Good now be a good servant and clean your master."

Still delirious from cumming continuously for the past few minutes Neuronist nonetheless immediately obeyed and opened her mouth obediently and got to work.

I let a small grunt and caressed her hair all too aware of the mismatched pair of eyes watching us from the slightly opened door.

'You're next my dear dark elf.'

(Day Later, Throne Room)

Looking at the Guardians gathered before me I shared what I had learned from the blonde dude that I already forgotten the name of.

"In five days, the Black Scripture will pass near here. I want Demiurge, Shalltear, Mare and Rubedo to go and capture them. They will have a World Item with them called Downfall of Castle and Country that normally allows the subjugation of any creature." I began looking around making sure everyone was paying attention.

"With the shroud I gifted you earlier this week, you have no need to fear any kind of mind control so just make sure to retrieve it for me. All but one of them are of any threat and Rubedo is only really going in case something unexpected happens."

"Any questions?"

"Huhuhu so your powers even trump World Items. Marvelous~" Demiurge let out an evil chuckle at that bit of info.

"Your orders will be followed without question Lucan-sama!" Shalltear, exclaimed happily eager to please me.

"I-I will do my best too." Mare emboldened by everyone's else's enthusiasm, also chimed in trying to look serious but just ending up looking cute as hell.

“Good, continuing on. That same day there will be another two targets that I want you to handle Aura.” I looked towards the other twin.

“You can count on me Lucan-sama!” Boisterous as ever, Aura immediately replied with a grin on her face.

“Sebas, you and Solution will head to Re-Estize and capture the Eight Fingers along with the Six Arms.” I continued looking at the old butler now who bowed his head in acknowledgement.

“Understood.”

With Gazel already captured and sold, the only ones left in the Re-Estize kingdom to capture were the criminals, the royal family and that weak blonde kid Climb or something. After that the kingdom will be easy pickings for Demiurge or whoever else chose to subjugate it before we moved somewhere else.

‘If everything goes according to plan, we will have successfully crippled two countries after this.’ The other being the Slane Theocracy of course after the fall of their strongest scripture.

“While we’re on the topic let me explain a little more of the 7 major nations of this world. First, we have the Slane Theocracy like I just explained that’s run by the descendants of Players who arrived in this world in the distant past. My guess is that depending on where you were in Yggdrasil has a correlation on when you arrived in this world. Thanks to them tier magic and magic items were introduced into the world explaining what happened at Carne Village.”

“Then we have the Re-Estize Kingdom which is where we are currently. It is run by a weak king with the nobles of his kingdom constantly making grabs of power weakening his rule even further. It is also where the current base for the underworld organization known as Eight Fingers is located along with its enforcers the Six Arms.”

“Next is the Baharuth Empire ruled by a competent if ruthless man and housing one of the strongest human magic casters in the world along with a strong military. It is one of the strongest nations on the region as of now thanks in part to the current emperor.”

“After that is the Roble Holy Kingdom ruled by a woman that doesn’t have the heart to make hard decisions making her rule over the country weak. It is currently divided in 2 factions, the north and south with the south being opposed to her rule. Her kingdom is in an even worst state than Re-Estize as they normally have to fend off attacks from demi-humans. As the name suggests they are very religious believing just as the Slane Theocracy that the players who arrived 600 years ago were real gods.”

“The Dragon Kingdom is ruled by a woman with dragon blood in her veins. She is the granddaughter of the Brightness Dragon Lord, one of the previous rulers of this world before the Payers arrived. Like the Roble Holy Kingdom, they also suffer from constant attacks from Beastmen, savage animals that see the humans as a food source.”

“Next is the Elf Country, home of the elves and ruled by an Elf whose arrogance engulfed his country and people on a losing war with the Slane Theocracy after abducting and raping one of the descendants of their so called ‘Gods.’”

“Finally, we have the Argland Council State, a country of mostly demi-humans ruled by 5 dragons with one of them being the Platinum Dragon Lord one of the strongest entities currently in the world.”

“There are more scattered countries around the world but nothing really of any interest other than the ones I just mentioned. Now any questions before we continue?”

Looking around me I saw the interested faces of Demiurge and Albedo listening intently to what I was saying. It seems however that they had no questions as everyone remained silent.

“Good, now how goes the plan I told you about before Demiurge, Albedo?” I turned to the Succubus now who seemed to preen at having my gaze directed at her.

Albedo had been very busy recently along with Demiurge learning everything they could get their hands on. All with the ultimate purpose to subjugate the majority of this world and force them to see me as a God for that sweet reward of two Imaginary Tickets.

“It is going well Lucan-sama. The new information you have given us has sped up the process by quite a bit.” The Succubus let out a dark smirk at that followed by Demiurge.

Not wanting to know what they had planned as I honestly didn’t care either way, I just nodded my head. “That’s great to hear. I expect to see a report from you after we finish with the tasks, I’ve given everyone just now.”

“Of course, Lucan-sama.”

Finally turning to Cortana who had been silent until now as she sat on the armrest, I raised an eyebrow. “Anything I missed love?”

“Huhuhu no. You went over everything.” Cortana shook her head looking amused at everything and looking at me with a knowing look.

“Well, if there’s nothing else to discuss, with the exception of Aura and Mare, you’re all dismissed.” Everyone but the two elves gave me one last bow before making their way out of the throne room with Albedo and Shalltear throwing small jealous glances at the twins.

“Couldn’t resist huh? Make sure to save some time for me later dear~” With a small kiss on the cheek Cortana also made herself scarce disappearing into motes of blue light.

“Aura, Mare.” I called out making them perk up in attention. “I have decided that you two will share my bed tonight but before that there is something I want to do in the Dwarf Kingdom and I want you to accompany me.”

With their faces a neon red, Mare and Aura could do nothing but nod shyly truly looking like identical twins at the moment before Aura coughed into her hand and looked at me curiously.

“Of course, Lucan-sama though may this lowly one ask a question?”

“Aura, please make sure to never forget what I have to say next.” I said with a serious voice causing the twins to snap to attention with their blush disappearing.

“I care absolutely nothing, no less than nothing about anyone in this world or any world for that matter, other than the very few that catch my interest.” I began with a blank look on my face.

“Those that do catch my attention though, I will lavish them with power, riches, love or anything else they might desire just like I have done to all the denizens of Nazarick. All I ask in return is for their complete and total loyalty to me.”

“So, you see Aura, if I really thought of any of you as lowly then I wouldn’t even have bothered to speak with you let alone grant you my power so don’t go calling yourself lowly as you’re disrespecting me. Is that clear?” I finished releasing my aura making the elves flinch a bit.

“F-forgive me Lucan-sama!” Aura threw herself into the floor with a bow. “I had no idea you thought of us in that manner and I have committed a horrible sin. I will accept any punishment you deem fit.”

Feeling my eyebrow start twitching as this was going nowhere, I let out a sigh and waved my arm in dismissal.

“Just forget it. You are forgiven. Now going back to our previous discussion, what did you want to ask?”

Thanking me a few more times with tears in her face Aura eventually asked what was in her mind. “Is there any specific reason we are going to the Dwarf Kingdom?”

“We are going resource gathering.” I said simply with a small smirk.

‘You could never have enough gold and dragon parts after all.’
