

A petal falls down from a rose held inside a glass case

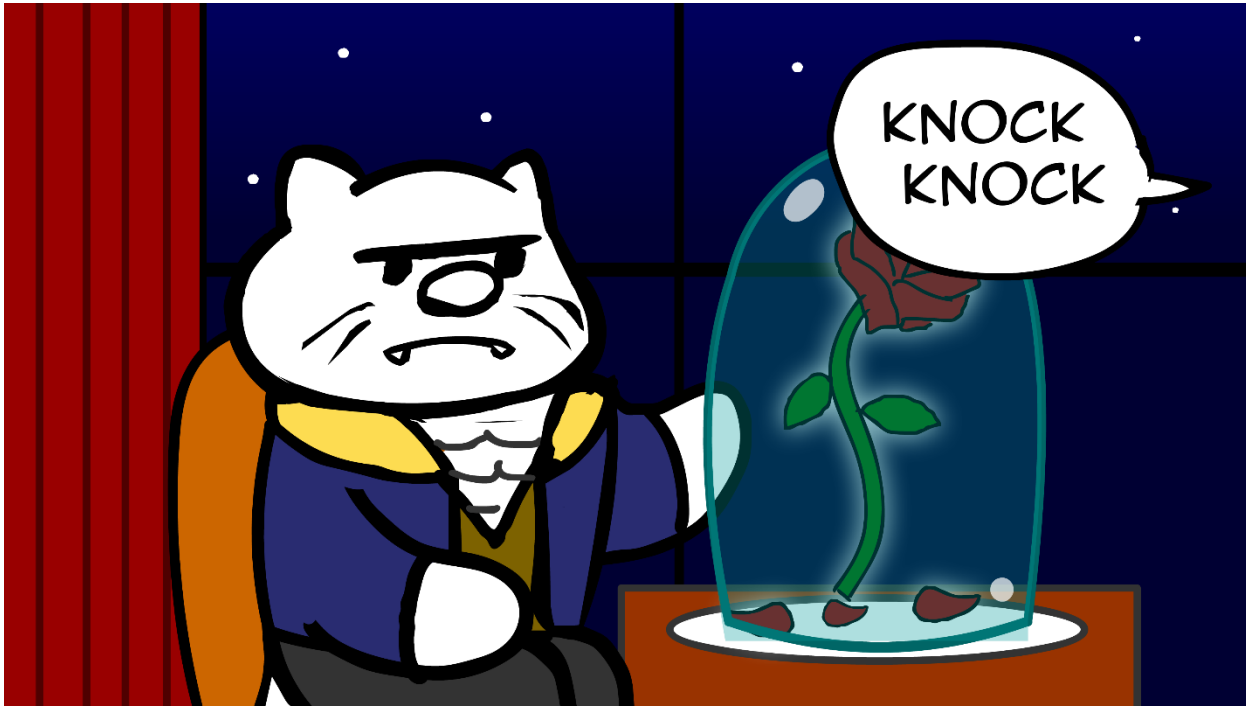

Troll cat looks worried at the rose knowing his time to find love is short

He hears knocking on the castle door

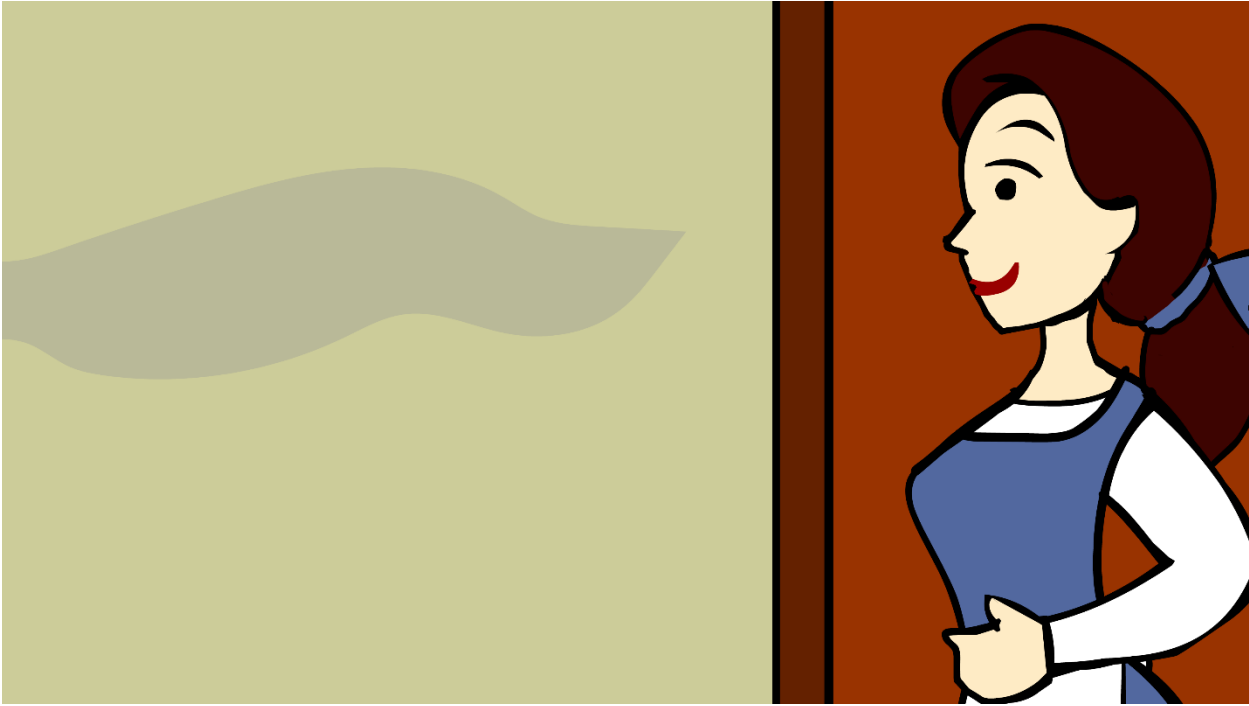

Cogsworth (the clockman) opens the door

A slim beautiful woman (Belle) walks in with beautiful feet.

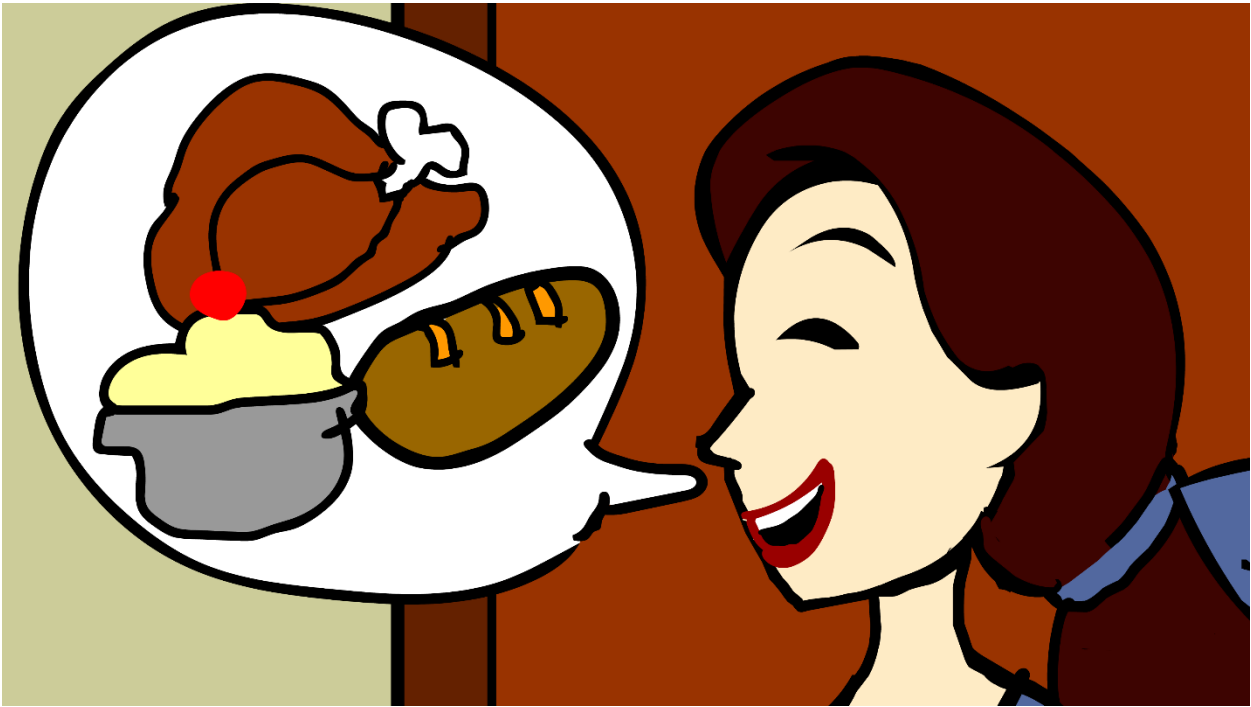

Pan the camera upward to show her face. She is rubbing her stomach hungry as she smells some delicious food

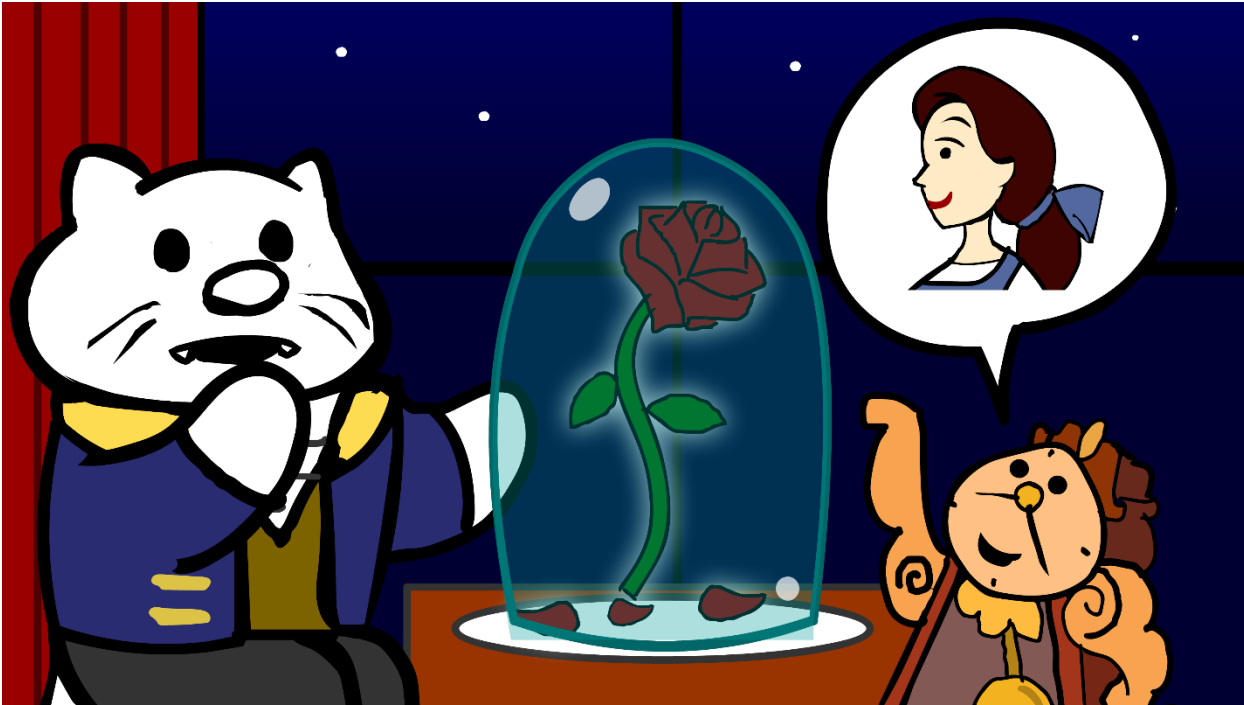

She breathes in the aroma

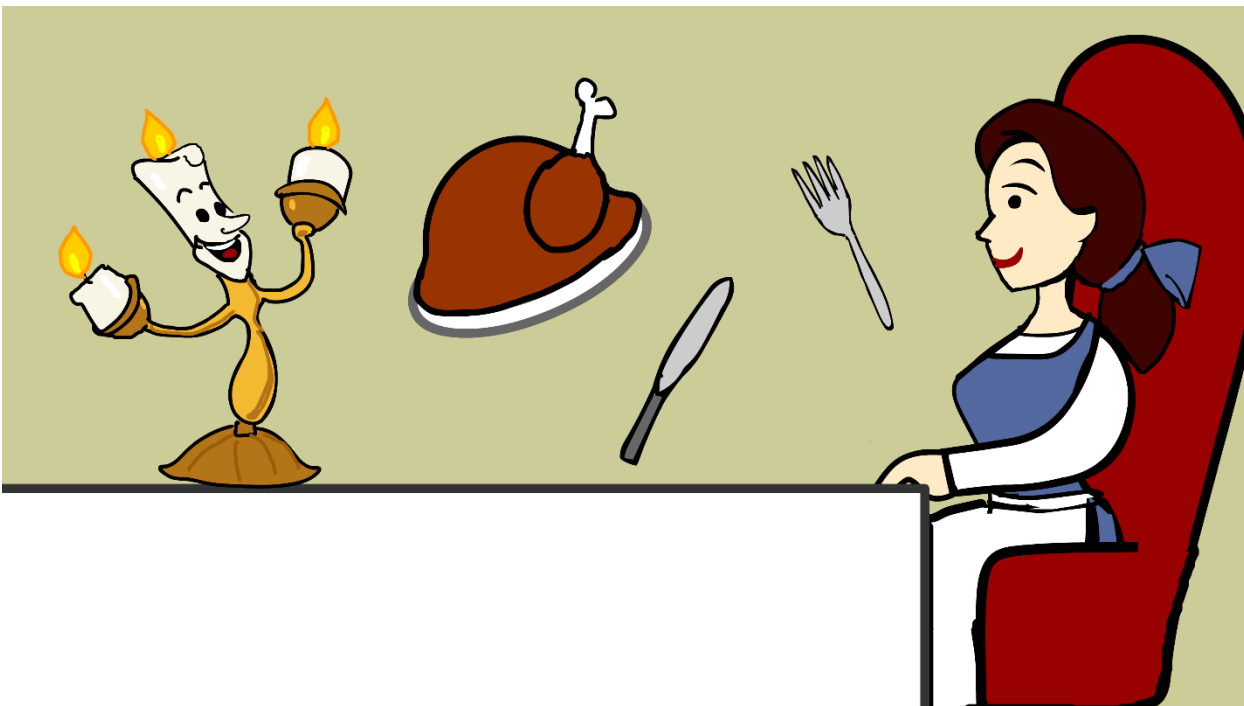

She asks for food

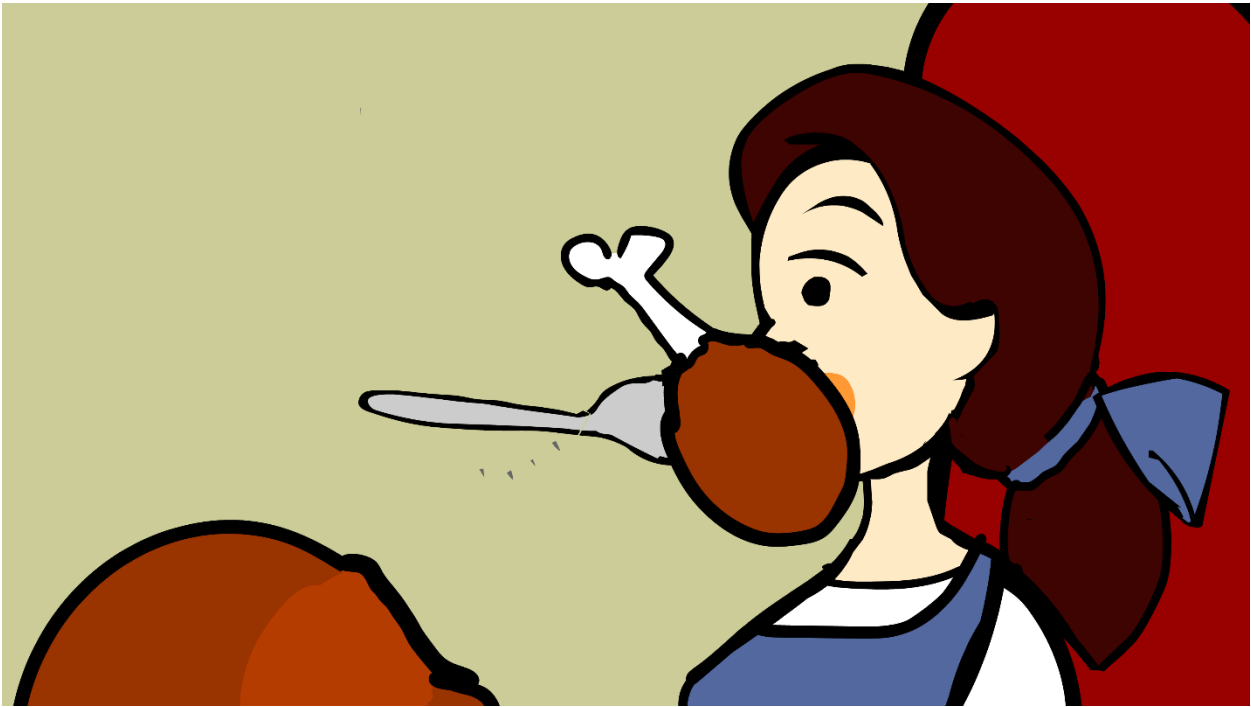

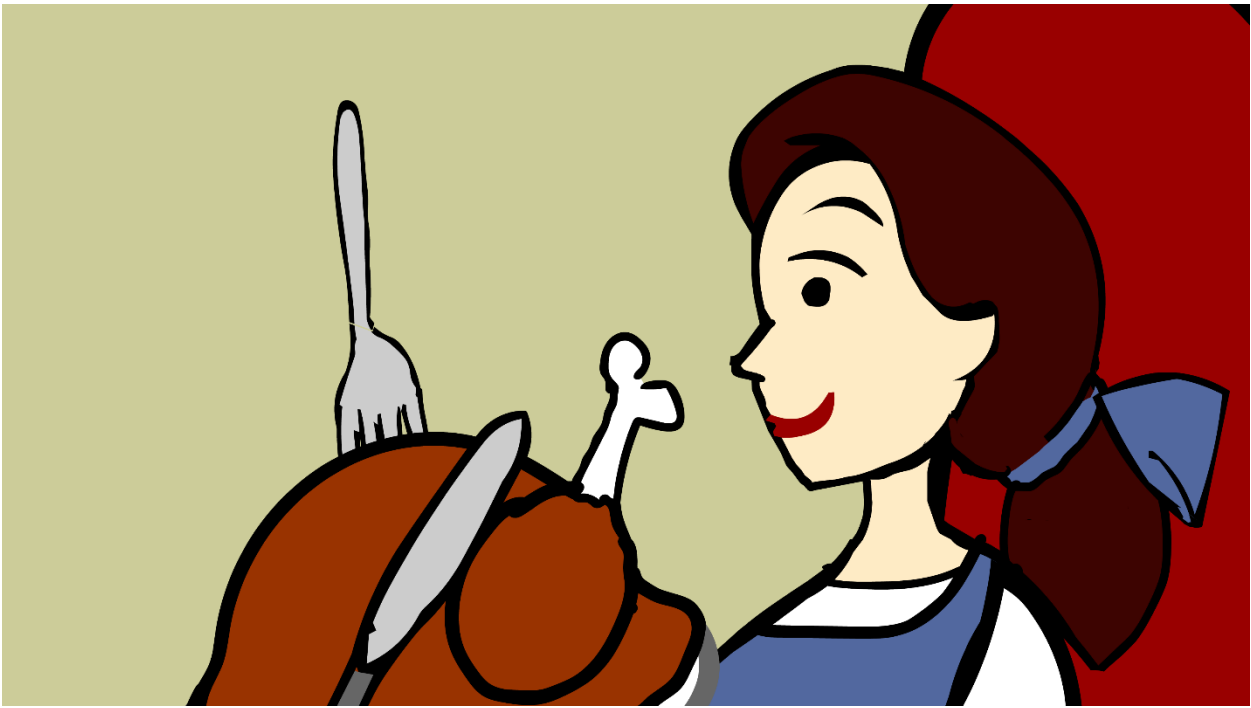

The clock man excited tells Troll Cat (The Beast) there is a beautiful princess who wants to dine tonight with them

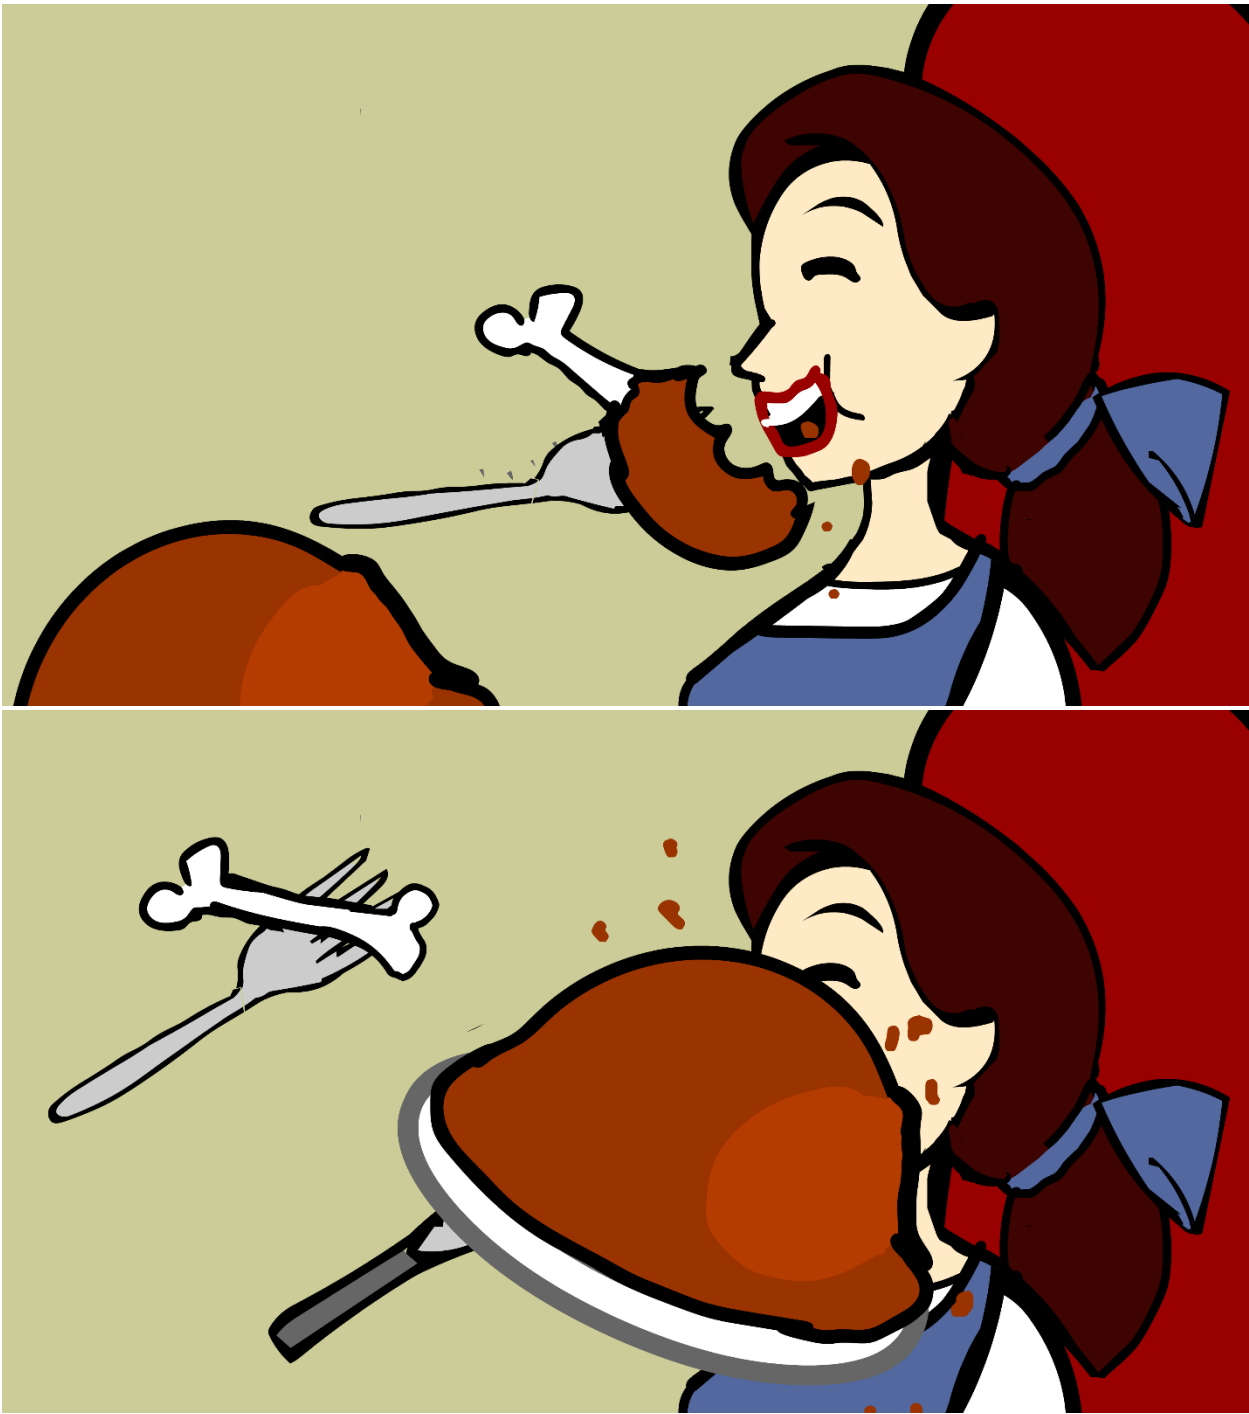

Meanwhile the candle man (Lumiere) is making the chicken, knife, and fork float serving their guest

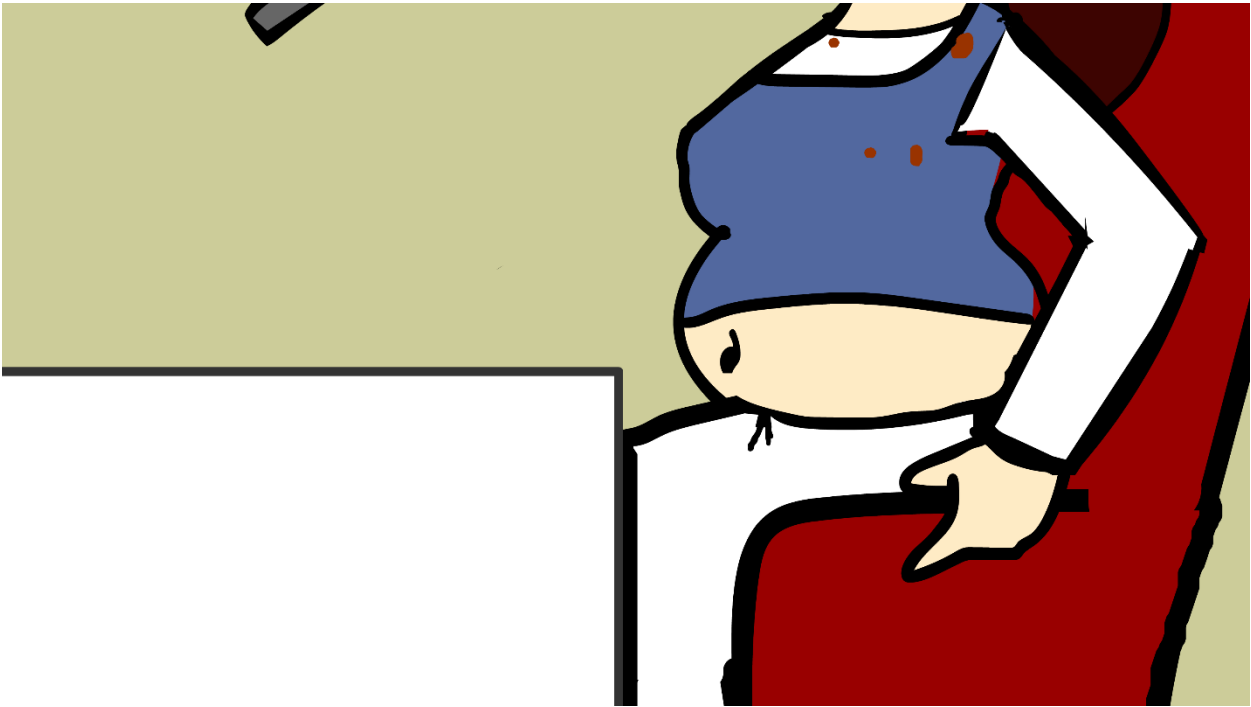

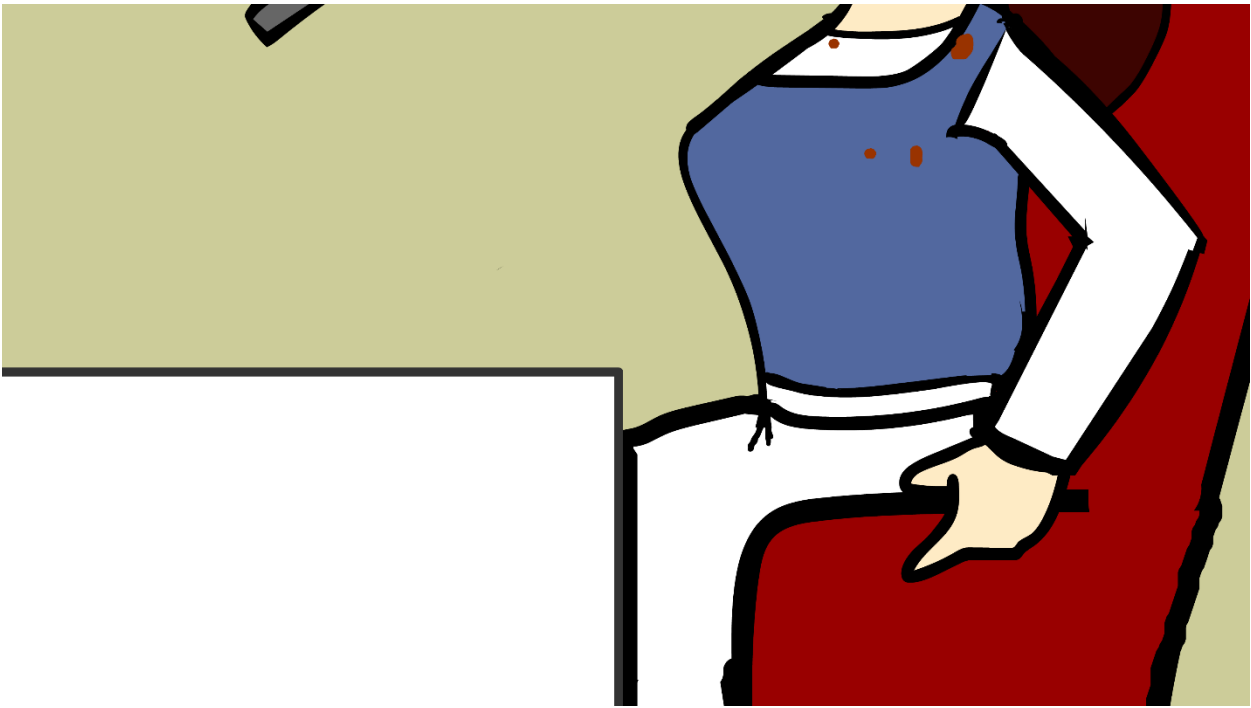

The fork holds the chicken while the knife cuts off a leg piece to feed her

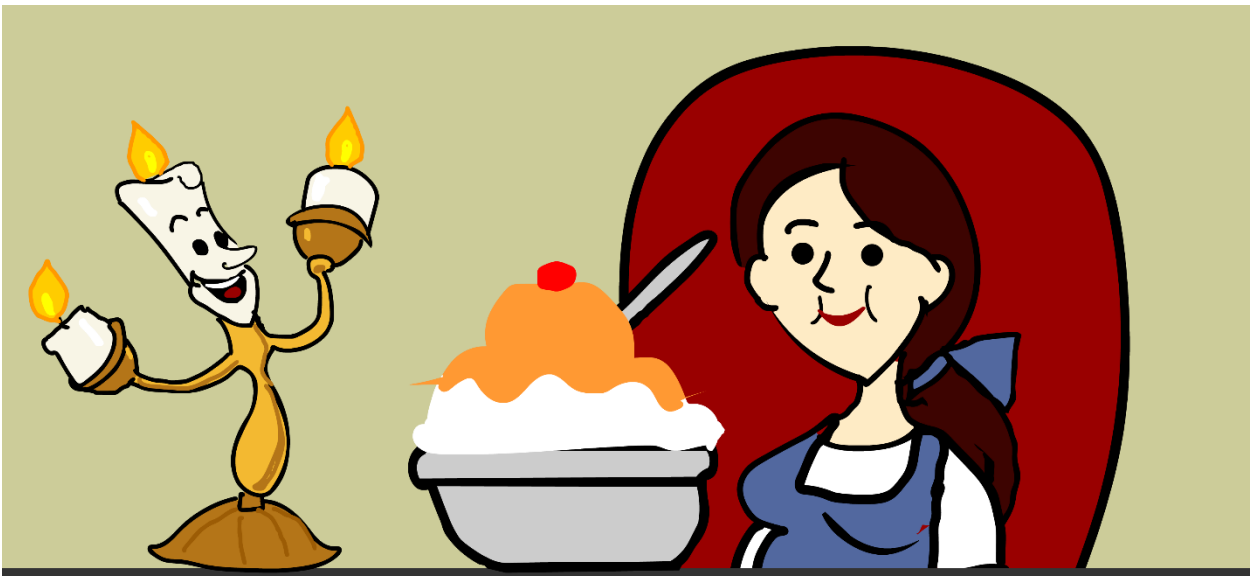

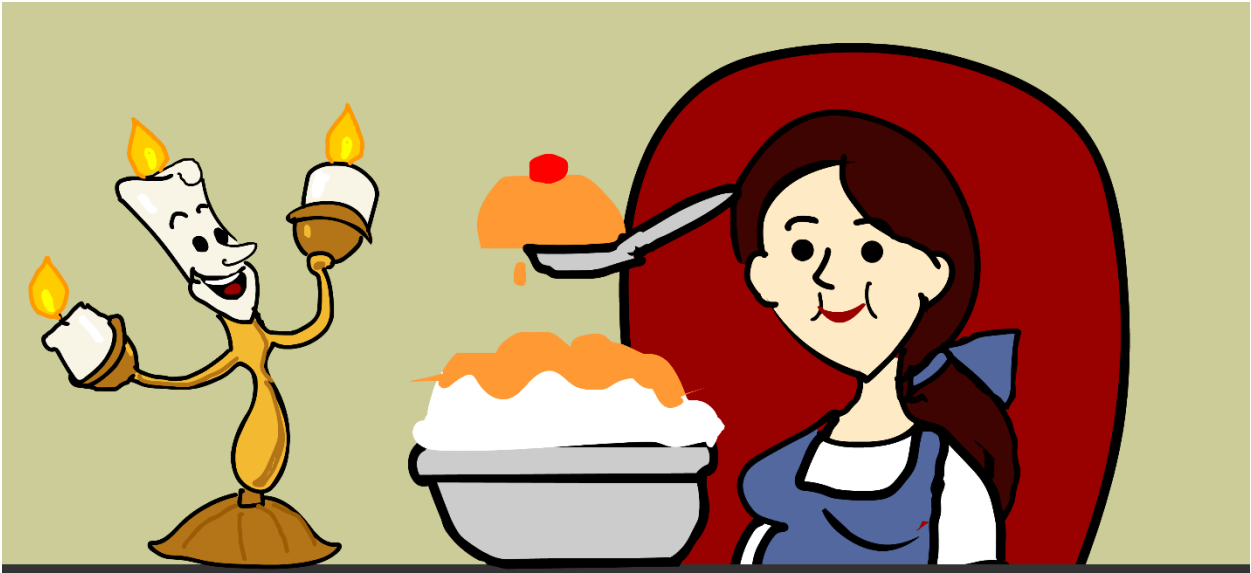

Her belly quickly grows very fat as she eats the entire chicken

The Candle man fees her big bowl of icecream. The floating spoon goes into the bowl, takes a big scoop and brings it to her mouth to eat

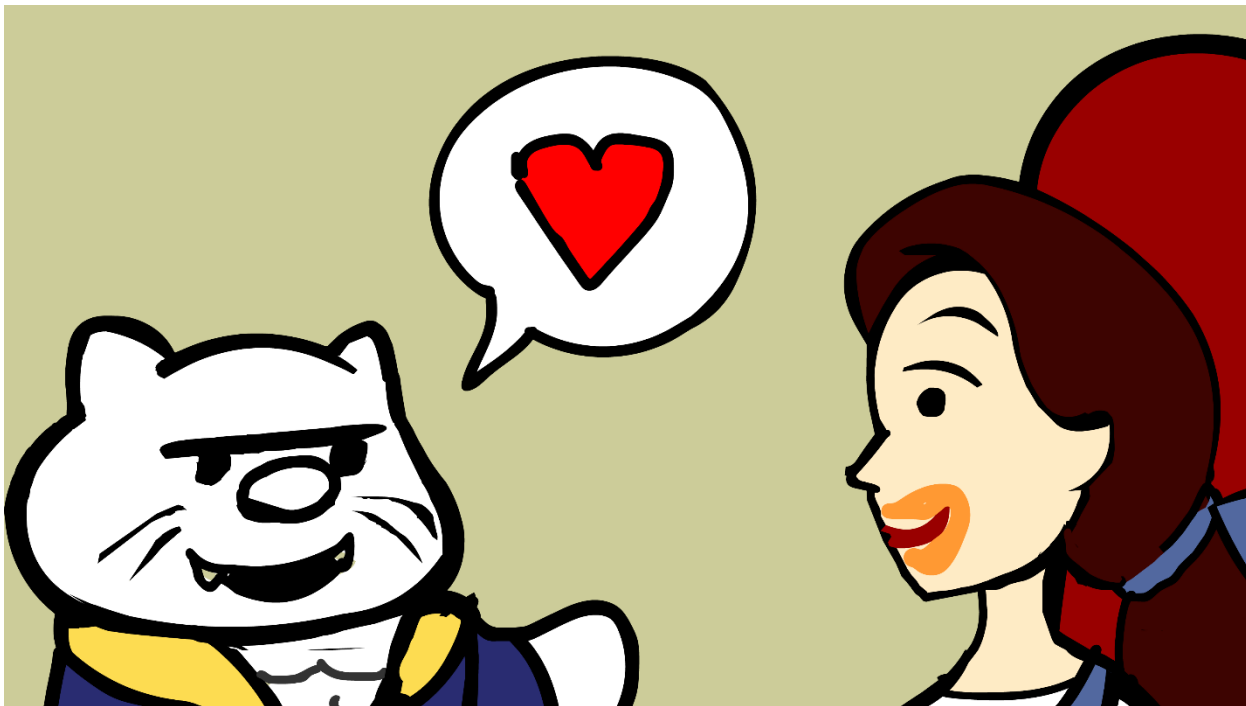

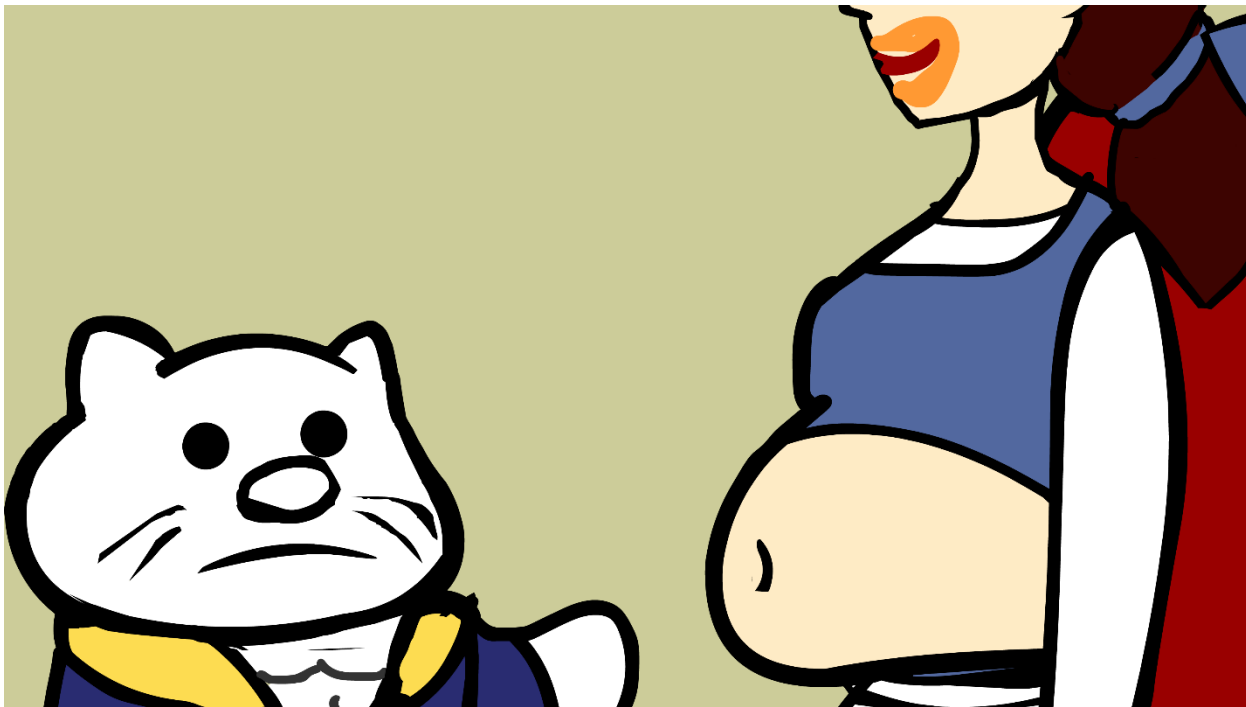

Troll Cat is escorted down the stairs by clock man eager to meet the potential princess and lover

He proposes his love to her

She gets up from her chair and Troll Cat notices immediately she has a huge belly and he is stunned and a bit disgusted.

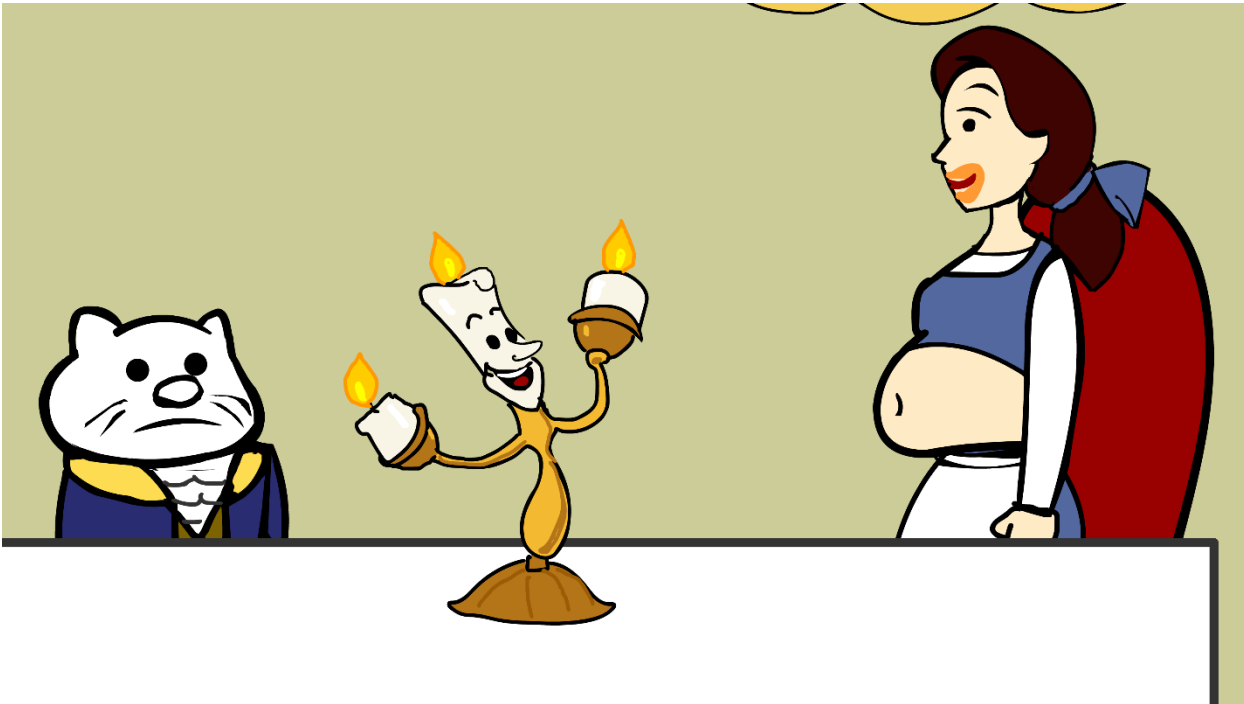

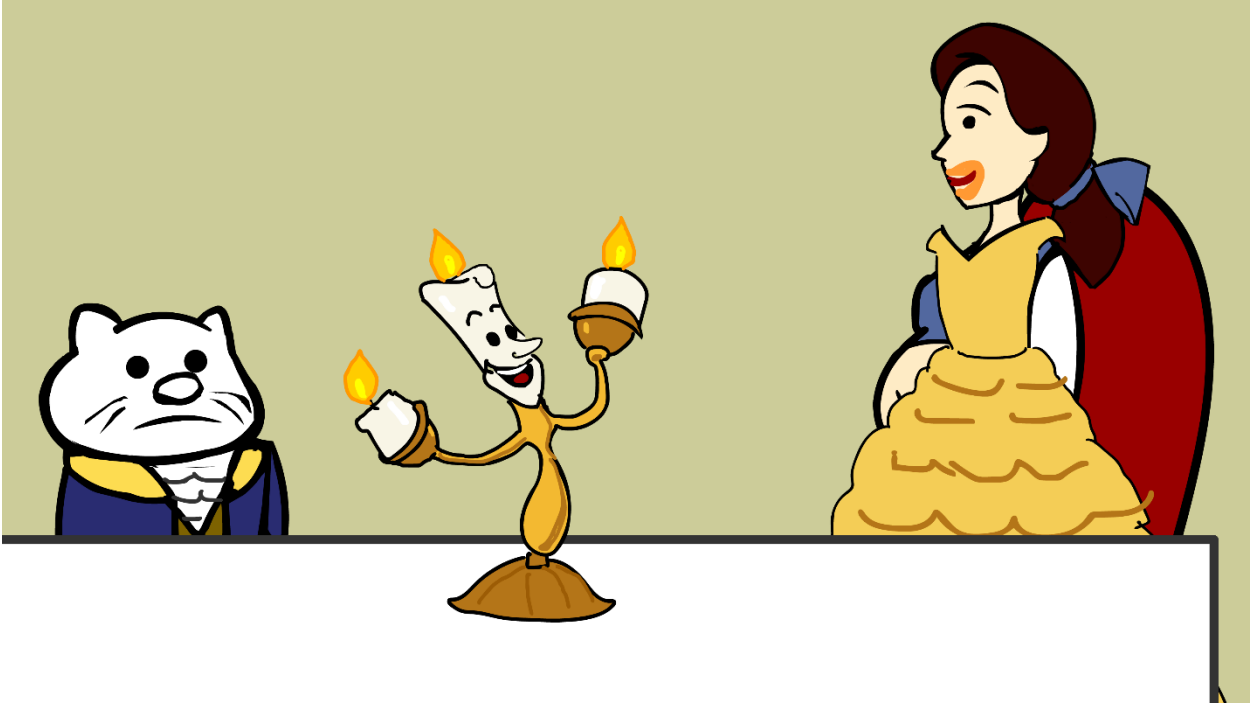

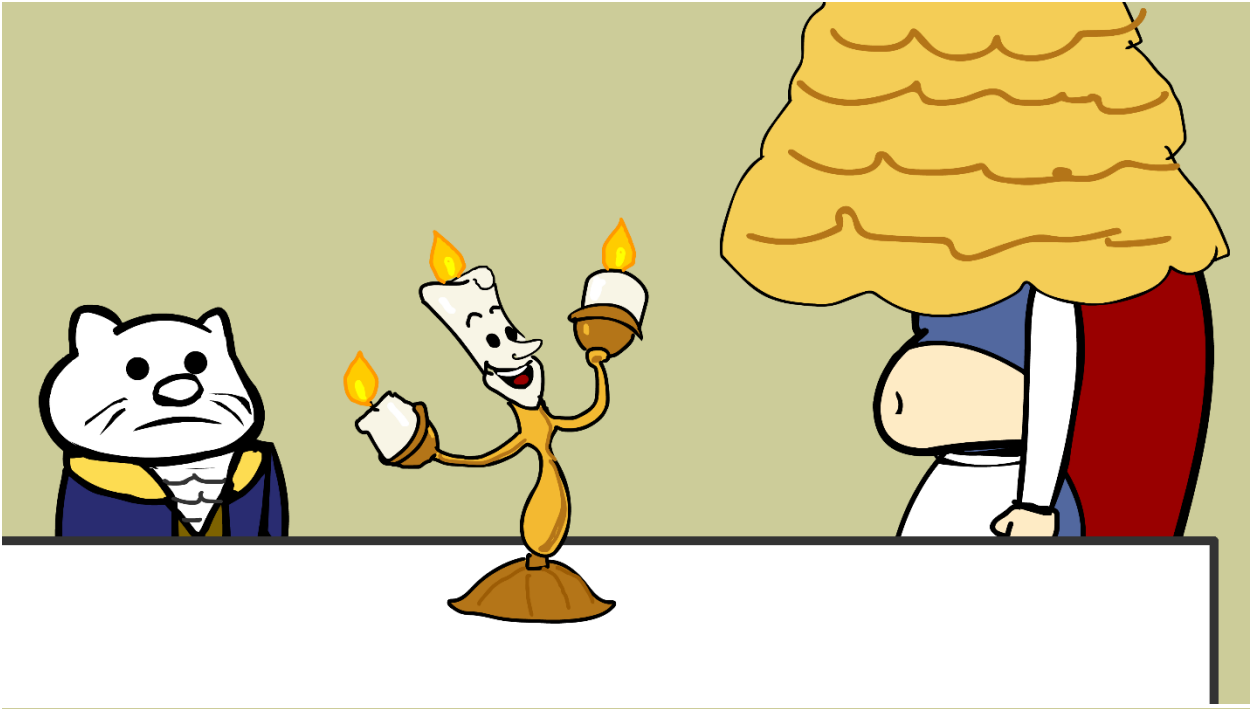

The clockman angrily tells the candle man to fetch a beautiful dress to cover her up quickly

The Candleman brings the dress down from above and she gets dressed up immediately

The Candleman pushes the table and chair away so they can both dance

Troll Cat rushes to his beautiful woman

They start doing some funny dance moves together as a disco ball comes from above

The lighting changes as they dance. (Play any dancing music)

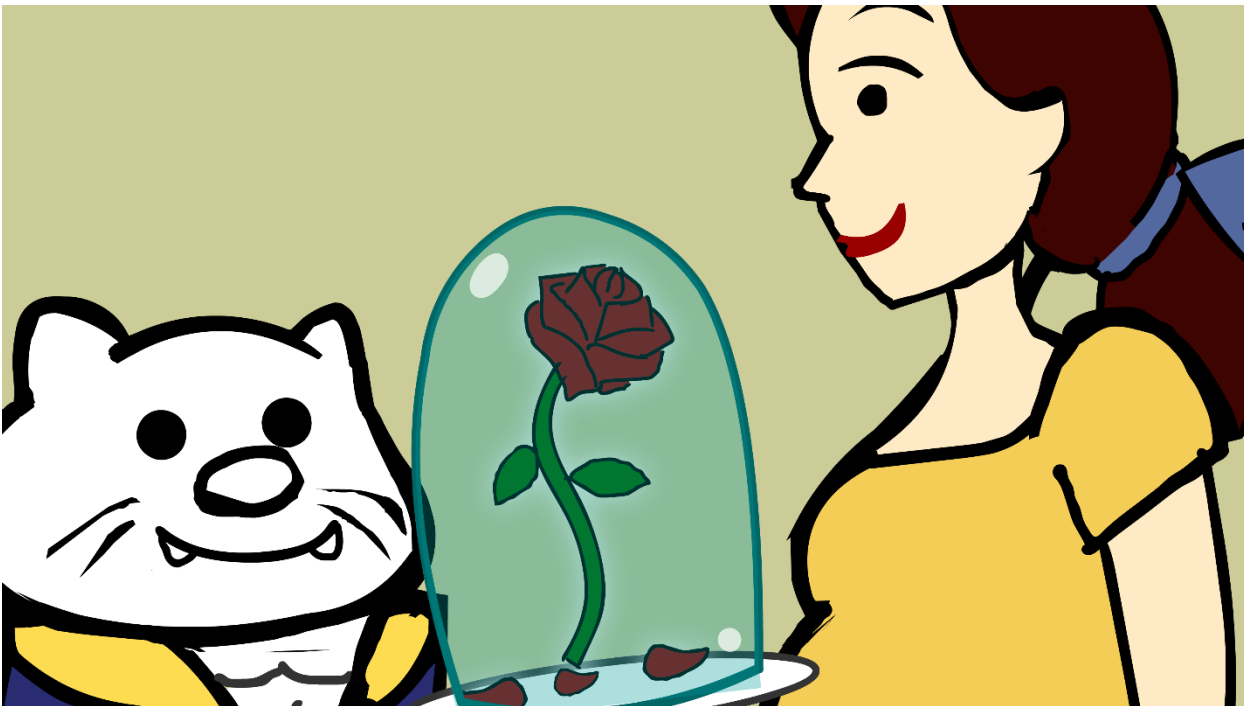

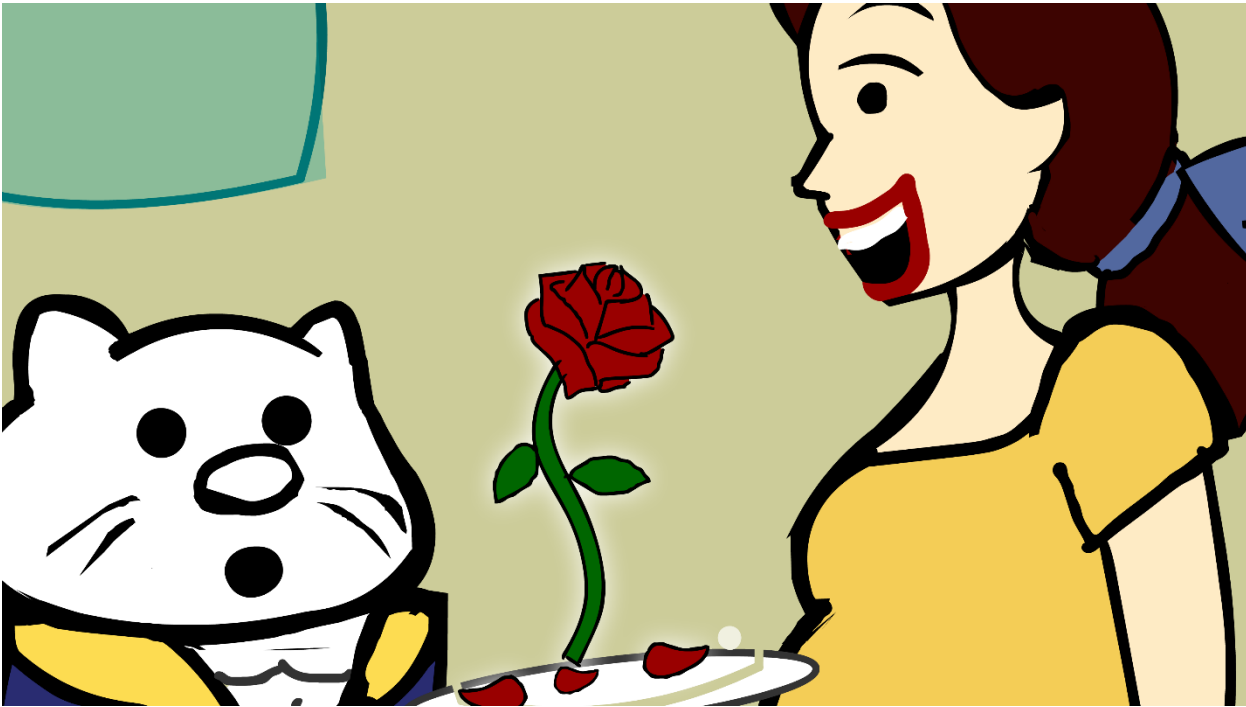

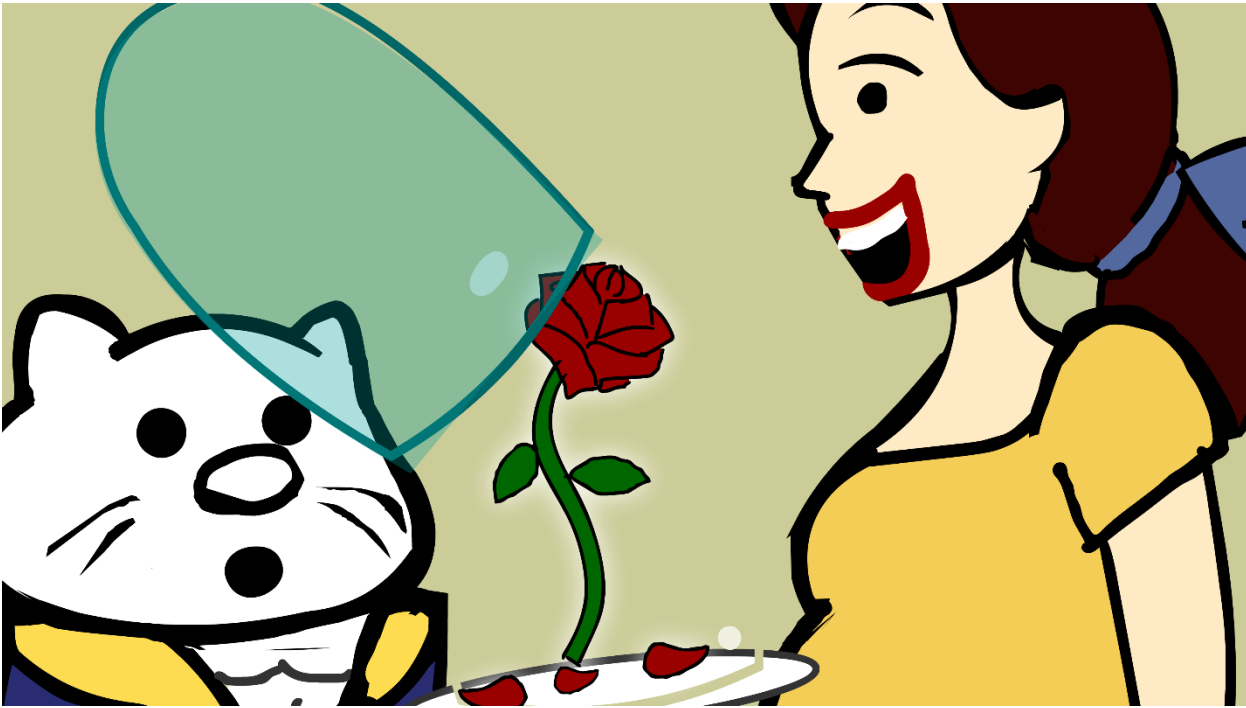

Once they stop dancing she says she loves Troll Cat too and kisses his head.

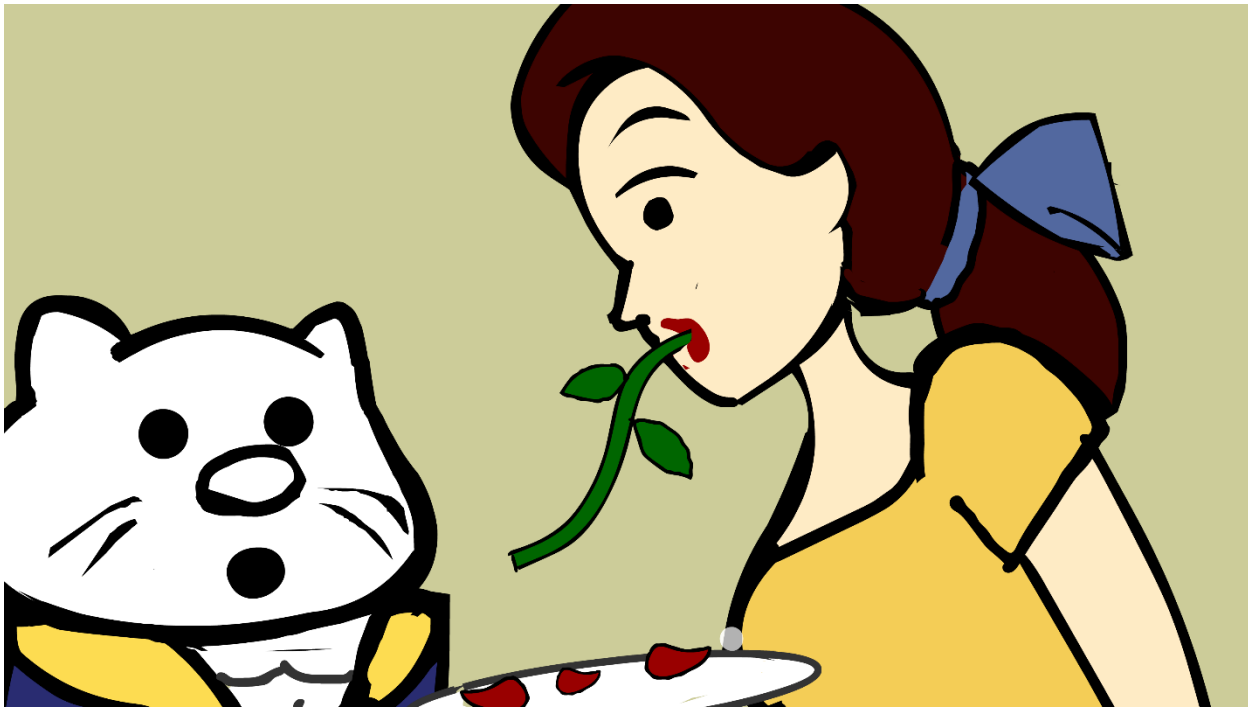

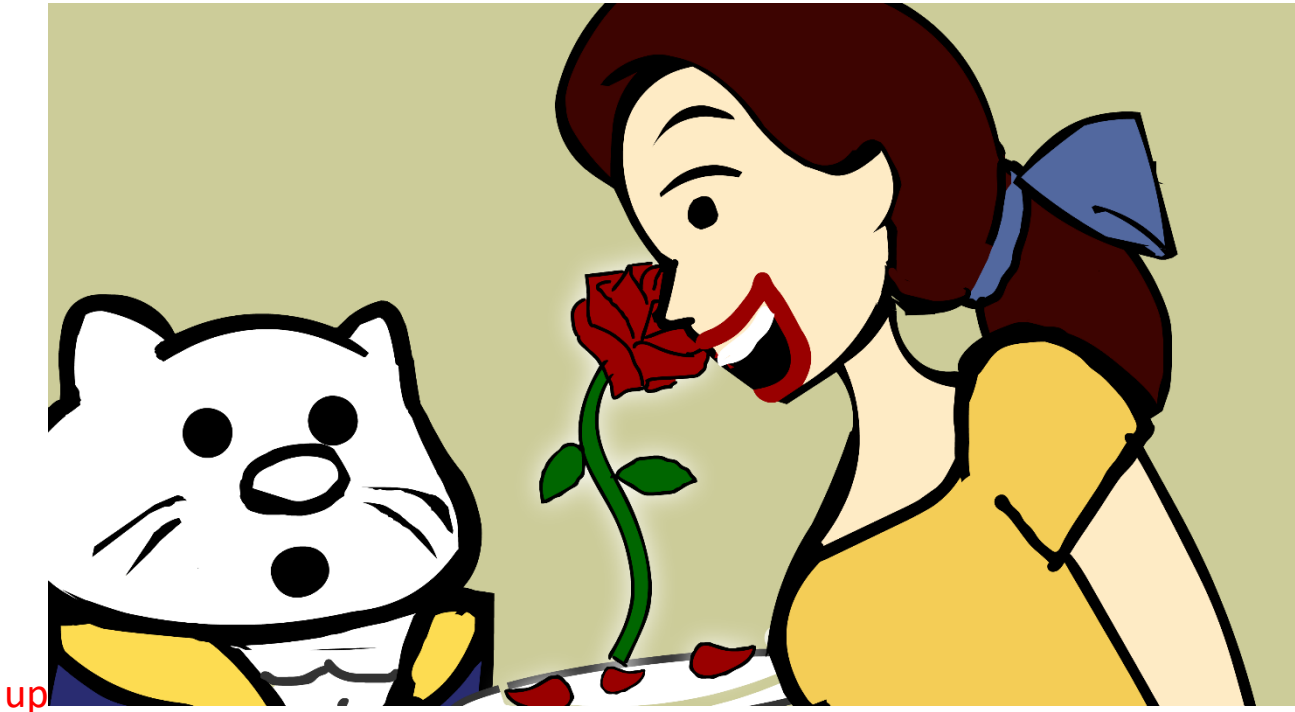

He shows her the precious rose very excited

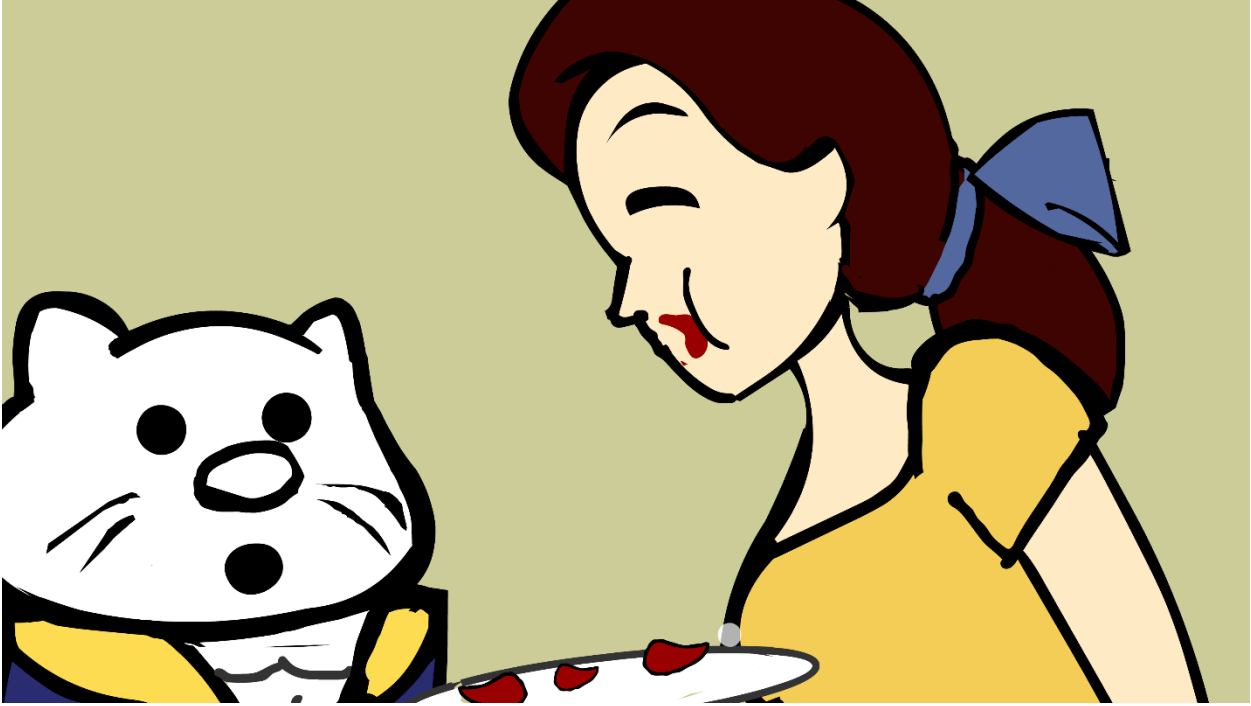

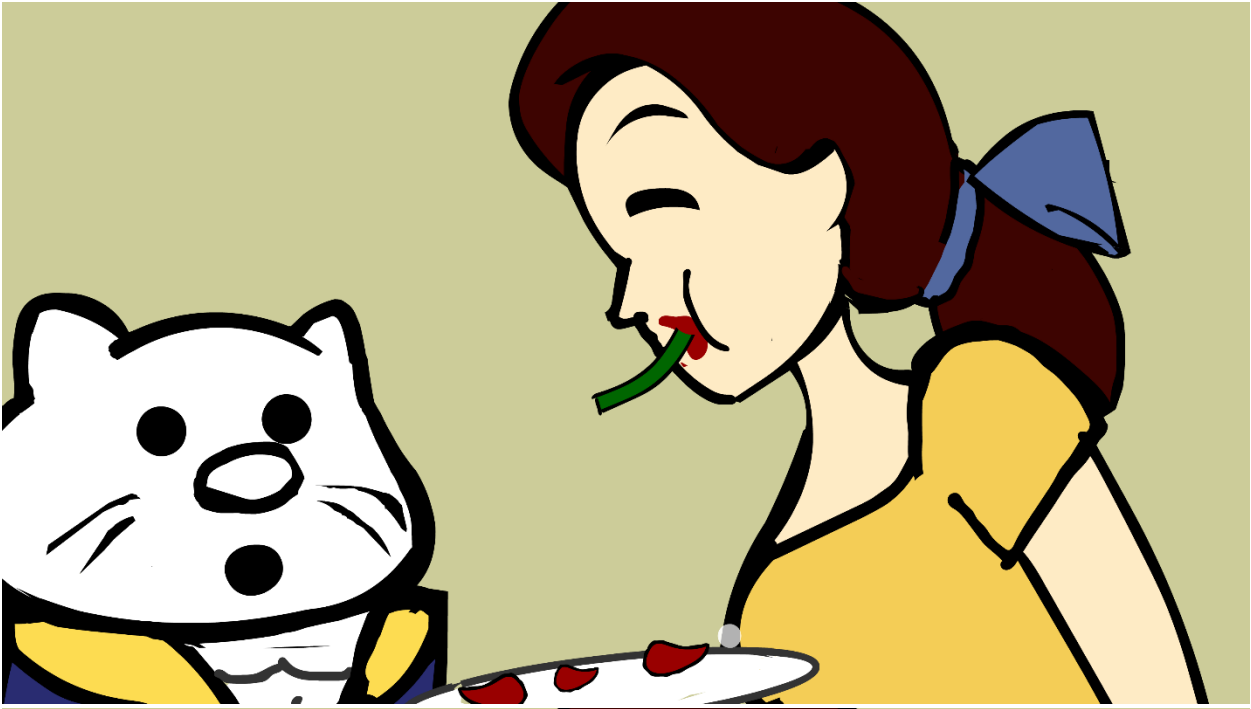

She yells very happily and the glass case from the flower comes off

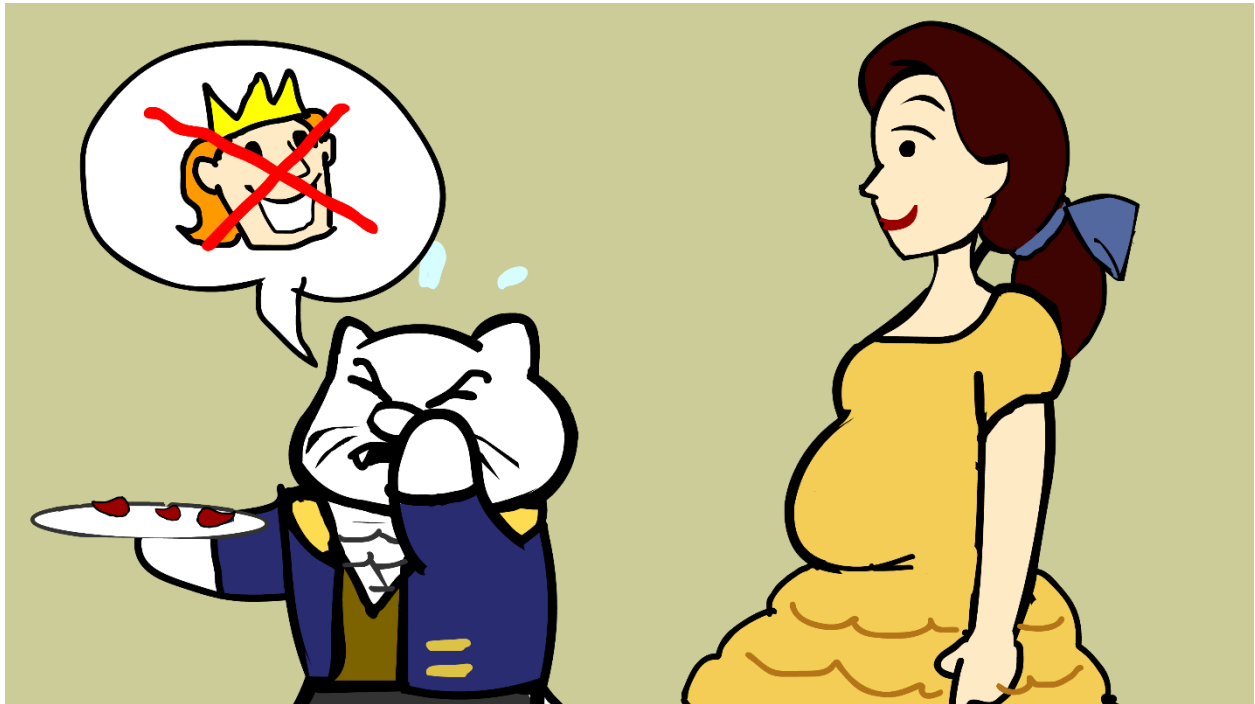

She proceeds to eat the flower for some reason taking a bite and then sucking it all

The cat is very upset now crying he will never become a handsome prince again now.

She takes a crown and puts it on his head signaling he is always her handsome prince and she wants to marry him.

Flash forward to the future Troll Cat the prince and a much fatter Princess Belle are sitting on the throne being entertained by the candle and clock man. Princess Belle is busy eating the floating icecream fed to her by the spoon

There is a cracking sound as the chair the fat princess is sitting on breaks

And she falls over with a loud crash with a smoke of dust rising up. The icecream and spoon is still floating in midair.
