Chapter Nine

“Fiddlesticks... Crumbs... Biscuits...Ahh!” I aired my frustration to the room, both my wands on the table. They were now pulsating orange.

“What does that even mean?!” I shouted.

I was at a loss, I didn’t know what any of this meant, the others would surely catch on, nobody just grows tits that quick.

Jibblesnout!

I panicked.

What if she grew again...

I needed to know, I couldn’t fix it if I didn’t know the extent of the problem.

What if the wands turn purple again...

I quickly swished over to the bookcase and pulled out some dusty old tomes that I never bothered to read.

There has to be something in here... Surely...

There was not.

“Well... That was a waste of time...” I threw the book down and picked up my wands, they clinked together, and the orange glow turned into a vibrant yellow. “Yellow?”

This is just becoming some sort of joke isn't it...

I used a portal and found myself back at Kim's place. It was nighttime again, the guise of darkness was usually in my favour but this time it just made me more nervous than anything else.

I floated into her room, the wands were now changing colour every few seconds, like some sort of light show for the whole world to see.

I wished they'd stop doing that...

The light was bright enough that it did outline two gigantic masses under the duvet. I stared and realised that she actually looked a bit bigger than before, I removed the blanket with some magic, and I gasped at what I saw.

She's huge!

Huge was right, each breast was truly gigantic, from what I knew of human culture she had the biggest breasts on earth. No small feat thanks to the humans and their determination to always defy all the laws of nature.

Well... She might not actually be bigger...

I eyed up each gigantic orb and pondered over their size.

Maybe they have stopped growing...

My options were very limited here, the wish magic was strong, much stronger than even I could muster.

Hang on...

I picked up the wands, the one I had dropped was pulling towards Kim, the colour fading as I slowly moved it towards her body.

No...

The wand seemed to have a pull towards the human, this had never happened to my knowledge.

This is so much worse...

The wand suddenly turned purple but before I could remove it from her presence it shot to her hand that was draped over the edge of the bed. Her hands instinctively gripped it, and I saw the colour fade from the wand, my spare wand had also seemingly dropped the light show act.

So... This is it? She just has a wand... I lose mine and have to use my spare?

I looked down to the cracked and usually defective wand.

What will the elder say...

The worry crept over me, but I didn't have much time to think about that because there was a loud noise, it was difficult to describe, it sounded like some sort of undulation, stretching and bubbling all rolled into one.

Then there was a light.

It came from "Kim's" wand. A dazzling blue, the radiating light also started to emit from her boobs. Like two giant lanterns their shine was enough to illuminate the night sky. It was fairly brief, but I knew this could only be bad.

I opened a portal in preparation for my escape, but I was not prepared for what was about to happen.

With a surge of growth her tits rapidly expanded and grew before my eyes. They doubled in size in a few short seconds, bumping against my body and it catapulted me through the portal, I looked through and saw the flesh advance again.

On instinct alone I threw my hands out and closed the portal, lest her tits come through and swallow our land whole.

On the floor. I sat there, lost, confused, defeated and having made a massive mistake.

It was no surprise to me that when I went to lift myself up from the floor I was greeted by a very stern faced Elder.

“What mess have you made this time...”

Fuckwaffles...
