

The Accident

Part One

The following was a commission submitted to me by a Super Fan on Patreon.

The thunderous set of bangs made Wayne jump up. He wasn't really an early morning person, especially since the incident. He rubbed the sleep out of his eyes, his tiny heart was thumping in his chest rapidly. The fight or flight response was telling him to run, he wasn't still quite used to this situation yet.

Thump thump thump

The deep and loud bangs were getting closer. Wayne sat up in his bed and looked to the door to see a giant shadow loom into the room. A powerful hand reached around the corner and into view came a giant woman, her body covered in muscles. She looked directly at Wayne and smiled.

"Morning sweetie."

Wayne worked at a lab, as did his girlfriend, Kelly. They'd been working on a supplement that meant to help people grow muscle mass, a sort of safe and healthy alternative to steroids. The primary function was meant to be for those who had deficiencies, but the higher ups knew that the potential to sell it to aspiring athletes would bring in a substantial amount of money before the sports leagues would probably put a ban on it.

It was going well, the animal testing was giving good evidence that what they had was going to change the world, the team were thrilled, and human testing was right around the corner. Dosage was important in these things, so they were looking at how to strengthen and weaken the doses, during a mundane cycle of one of their machines, something gave out. Kelly was next to the machine and the liquid splashed her face, a few concentrated drops landed in her mouth and by the time Wayne got to her it had already begun.

Kelly yelled in pain as she felt her body burn hot to the touch, Wayne recoiled from his girlfriend and stumbled backwards. Kelly's body changed before his eyes, he watched helplessly as her clothes groaned, at first he couldn't see why but it became apparent that she was growing. By the second Wayne could see more ankle as her legs grew longer, her lab coat ripped on her shoulders as they became more broad, as more skin became visible Wayne noticed how hard and firm it looked as it swelled between the gaps in the clothing.

With a powerful yell, Kelly threw her arms up, it did two things. Firstly, it tore the bulk of her top off, the tattered clothing and bra fell down to the floor leaving her top half entirely naked.

The god-like physique before Wayne made him gasp but that would be his downfall. The liquid hadn't dried, the heat from her skin had compromised the formula and that would lead to the second thing that happened.

A drop landed in Wayne's open mouth.

Before Wayne could marvel at Kelly's incredible and growing body he felt his own body start to heat up. His skin turned to lava, and he yelled out as he felt the changes take hold. However, it wasn't quite what Wayne was expecting. Kelly's body was tensing, and she was on her knees at this point, she was taller than Wayne already but within seconds he noticed that she was becoming taller than him, but a quick look around made him realise that wasn't quite what was happening.

He was shrinking.

Seconds passed and Wayne's 6'3 height was rapidly diminishing. Looking down he saw how his body was being scaled down and everything around him was becoming much bigger very quickly.

Whilst the serum had made Kelly muscly, it didn't grant Wayne such a gift, however he was a glass half full kind of guy, so he was just thankful it didn't waste away his current muscle mass. When all was said and done, Wayne had to swim out of his lab coat, standing tall at a miniscule and even 2", he looked up to his gigantic and ripped girlfriend. Kelly measured at 9'5 when the scientists were able to get her calmed down. The difference was stark and wholly incredible to see. They were kept under observation for a few weeks and poked and prodded to a point well past annoyance but after a few weeks, after all data was collated and they were deemed safe, they had to sign NDAs before they could leave.

The equipment itself was to blame and thankfully there was a hefty payout for them, it was too soon to go back to work, they were even offered redundancy but they were so work driven that Wayne was not ready to pack it in at 25 nor was Kelly at 40. Sitting at home was rather interesting with their new bodies, the first week was just constant visits from the company to make adjustments to their home to facilitate the changes after they were moved into a larger home to help accommodate Kelly.

The second week after the accident, they were finally left alone, and it was strange, getting used to the changes in themselves, how they acted with each other. Kelly had always been a tease, a dominant woman and the lead in the relationship for the most part. Her age was a big factor in that but now with her body as muscular as it was, she only grew in power, literally.

Wayne was finding his new size an issue when it came to interacting with her, he was so small that he felt tiny and insignificant, he was feeling quite lacking in many departments as a result, however the physicality of her body was turning him on at almost all times. He hadn't been so horny in all of his life.

The thumping was Kelly walking towards his bed. He had a small room in the house, it made things much easier for him to just have them for practicality. It was a single room, but it was more like an open plan apartment, thanks to his size he had a second floor even, which was about 4 ft above the floor of the room. For him it was perfect, but he only used those things out of necessity. When he was ready for the day he would traverse the larger side of the house with Kelly.

Wayne was noticing that Kelly was acting different these past few days, she was always a sexual woman, but it seemed that she was growing used to her larger body and she certainly was enjoying the reaction she was capable of getting out of Wayne. He had noticed that she was wearing exclusively bikinis now when around the house, there was still an issue with getting proper fitting clothes for her, however, there certainly was no worries from her in terms of confidently showing off her body.

The thumping was finally at the door, with a big gust of wind the door swung open and there stood Kelly. She was wearing a bikini that almost matched her skin tone making her almost look naked. Wayne felt his morning wood grow harder. He sat up, shirtless, he looked at his loving partner and it wasn't hard to tell after all these years together that she wanted more from him, something that he hasn't been able to provide her with for the last few weeks.

"Morning Honey..." Her voice was loud and booming to the much smaller Wayne but there was a tone of something else that made Wayne even more excited.

"Morning Babe." Wayne stood up and stretched, clearly showing off his throbbing morning wood.

Despite being two feet tall, his penis seemed to maintain some size, it certainly didn't scale down quite as much as his body. Kelley's eyes were fixated on it, Wayne saw the hunger in her eyes and started to wonder what he might be able to do to help them both out.

Kelly lowered herself down onto her knees, almost crushing some of the tiny furniture that was made for him. Her boobs were big before, the muscle growth made them appear bigger and thanks to the size contrast, they were gigantic to Wayne. There they were, right before Wayne's wanting body, he could feel the heat radiating from them. He walked forward and stood on his tiptoes on the second level of his room and planted an affectionate kiss on her lips.

That was enough to light a spark in her, she started to grip his body from behind, mashing his smaller frame into her larger head and lips, the make out session was heating up and it was quickly becoming something more than just that.

"Is that for me?" She cooed, her finger tracing his entire shaft. "So hard for me..." She moaned.

They had not really even talked about sex; it was the furthest thing from their mind until this moment. Wayne wanted nothing more than to fuck her like he used to but the physicality of it was now so different, he worried what he might be able to do for her.

“Do you like these changes?” Kelly said, moving back and flexing her arms.

He did, he very much enjoyed her much larger frame, how her body matched her domineering personality when it came to the bedroom, the size coupled with it made it just more arousing to the tiny man.

As much as Wayne wanted this to never end and he could just admire her body and get indefinitely turned on, he knew there had to be an admission to reality.

“H.. how am I?” He looked down at his body and back to her much larger frame, he was leaning over her boobs, in threat of being crushed between her tits If she were to flex her pecs.

“Well...” She picked him up with one powerful hand and held him up as she rose to her feet.

Wayne looked down at the nine-foot drop and back into the burning eyes of his girlfriend. She planted her lips on his body, covering a huge portion of his lap and making sure to massage his erection through his pants with her lips. Wayne grunted and leaned into her lips, his dick was still growing from arousal and when Kelly removed him from her lips even she was shocked at the size that he was.

“Well... That didn't shrink too much...” She said with a raised eyebrow, a telltale sign to Wayne that she had an idea.

“You want to... Fuck me right?” Kelly asked bluntly.

Wayne could feel her fingers massaging his body in her hand.

“Tell me.” She sounded more commanding in her words now.

“I want to fuck you.” Wayne replied.

“Good.”

Kelly's other huge hand came over and she ripped his pyjama pants off in one yank. The force was so much that his body didn't even feel any sort of pain or discomfort. Before he could say anything more he found himself being lowered down her abs, the chiselled muscle grinding against his skin, it was hard but so smooth that he enjoyed the sensation of feeling each of her flexing muscles against his body, the sensation through his cock was incredible. With careful fingering Wayne's feel were pushed into the tight fitting bikini bottoms and before her knew it he was feeling his hard dick sliding into her pussy, her labia covered the width of his body and she easily took the throbbing cock, although it was more tight than they were both expecting.

“That's it!” Kelly moaned,

She bent over and looked into her pants and saw Wayne's head and arms sticking out above and she could feel his legs dangling out of the leg holes of her panties. She liked the look, the raw power she had over him, she could feel his stiff length inside of her and she moaned as he tried to move.

“I've got an idea...”
