

INT. THE GRIFFIN HOME - DAY - POV

The viewer is sitting in the griffins living room, a version of the theme song is playing. Footsteps are heard to your left. Peter Griffin walks in front of you.

PETER

Remember the time you like family guy?

Peter stares on for a beat, ball chin still slightly swaying.

PETER (CONT'D)

Better not be too loud...would hate to admit that wouldnt you...It baffles me you just threw me away like that. Surely you cant be serious right? That would be worse than the time xxxxxx**

The viewer is transported to a new room in the house, looks like peters room. Footsteps are heard down stairs moving quickly running up the stairs. A new peter enters in stage right.

You couldnt possibly not like family guy now...You cant just write this all off as bad. Can you?
You entitled little worm. What loyalty do you have?

The other peters enter the room.

Remember when you like family guy?

The viewer is transported back to the living room with the same music beginning ot play again. 3 Peters run down the stairs, 2 more enter stage left.

Listen, just look passed the decline, please. I-I can be better.
I-I can surprise you again.

The peters slowly begin mutating. Just becoming more vile.

Maybe I shouldve left a long time ago. Its gotten so out of my control.

PETER (CONT'D)

A system of production I let myself become a factory produced money grab. Just like the time xxxxxx

The viewer is transported again, this time in chris room. The shuffling of more footsteps fill the air again. From Chris's closet and under his bed emerge more peters.

PETER (CONT'D)

You will never be satisfied, everything will disappoint you. You think all the things that bring you joy now will be able to stand on that pedestal? They will be standing right next to me before you know it. This was all for you.
This was all for you!

PETER (CONT'D)

Remember the time you liked family
guy?

The viewer is brought back to the living room, the peters are already there, some pouring over each other to get back to you. They start to swarm you laughing and repeating "remember when you liked family". The viewer pushes through the crowds going through the front, entering another family guy living room, the hoards of peters chase after you. You repeat this process a few more times till you break off heading towards the kitchen, the peters stumble and crawl over each other, you find a door leading to the basement and enter. The peters try to pry the door open but you are able to shut it. You look down into the dark basement and enter. The peters try to pry the door open but you are able to shut it. You look down into the dark basement. Hearing slight giggles. The pov walks down the steps and peters stand with there heads down in the dark, one peter looks at you from the back of the room the glistening of his glasses is all you can really see.

I changed. I let the cracks show, I cant seem to remember how good we had it.

The banging gets louder from the door up the steps.

PETER (CONT'D)

I remember when I loved family guy, but it was just a matter of time.

The door breaks open the light floods the room. Peter is smiling, slowly raising his hands accepting you.

The other peters in the basement slowly look up at the haord of peters from upstairs charging the room. Their Loud footsteps becoming louder and louder, some peters getting tackled and eaten. Giggling and phrases repeat ringing out.
Cut to black

End.
