

Chapter 4: Let's Get This Show Rolling

(Following Day)

Sitting in my throne the next day after sadly being pulled away from fucking Shalltear into a stupor by Albedo, I let my gaze wonder to the crowd gathered before me all kneeling in reverence.

Shalltear still looked out of it and was just kneeling there with her gaze focused entirely on me with a blush on her cheeks and randomly letting out a giggle.

"Thank you for assembling in such short notice. First of all, I apologize for taking too long to get back at you. I was occupied with other matters." I said without shame seeing some of the female members blush before looking at Shalltear and Albedo.

"There is nothing to apologize for my lord. As your subordinates it is our duty to heed all your commands." Demiurge spoke with a grin on his face as if happy about something.

"Now moving forward let me share my current plans for this world." Hearing me speak everyone refocused their attention on me.

"There are only three things that are valuable to me in this world. The first is its resources, I'm talking about precious metals, new flora, new fauna and crafting materials from rare monsters. The second and most important however are certain targets in this world." I straightened in my seat and looked at everyone seriously.

"One thing you must know about my power is that every time I share it with certain others I benefit as well. The stronger the being the more I benefit and the weaker the less. However, I don't benefit sharing my power with just anyone. Only those that have marked or will mark their names in history will give me something in return." I paused and looked around seeing some confused faces.

"The point is that I know who these beings are and there are several of them in every world I have visited or will visit in the future. My goal is to capture these beings and depending on a few key factors they can fall under me or be disposed of." I lied a bit in the end knowing that the binding would make anyone loyal to me and I would only be keeping the girls that I wanted to fuck.

"I see, so that's why... We understand Lucan-sama. Your will shall be done." Demiurge said.

"The third and final thing is a mission I have for all of you." At my words everyone seemed to straighten up even Shalltear who was barely paying attention until now. "I want this world to think of me as a God. I don't care how it's done. The only requirements are that 51% of the world's population must remain alive at the end and you are not allowed to use mind control."

There was a mission in the Catalogue that would reward me with 2 IMG tickets if at least 51% of the sentient population saw me as a God which shouldn't be hard in this world due to its history but it could only be completed by my companions.

"Your will shall be done!" Everyone spoke at once making me nod my head glad for their quick response.

"The second order of business I wanted to discuss is what happens when we finish our task in this world." Everyone suddenly went silent at what I said.

"As you already know, I'm a world traveler. Whenever I finish what I set out to do in a world I move on to the next. What you don't yet know is that I have my own personal world that absolutely no one but those connected to me or those I deem worthy may enter."

"D-does that mean that we..." Albedo asked with a hopeful face.

Everyone around her seemed to share the same question as her as they waited for my response with bated breath.

"Of course, that now includes all of you as of yesterday. When the time to leave this world comes, I will relocate the whole Tomb of Nazarick to my home." I smiled while looking at everyone.

"We are humbled beyond words Lucan-sama." Cocytus said and bowed his head even lower.

"To think you would be so kind as to invite us to your personal world 'sniff'." Mare spoke up next with tears in the corner of her eyes.

I gave them a few moments to recollect themselves before I continued.

"Now for the last order of business. Since I already mentioned this was not the first world I visited, it would come to no surprise that I have met others who I have shared my power with. To be precise there is one other who I've known for much longer than any of you or my old comrades from Yggdrasil."

I didn't miss the way Albedo or Shalltear clenched their hands a little in jealousy and it only increased at what I said next.

"She is my lover." Then with a mental command I unleashed all of my power and aura on them making them flinch.

“Listen carefully to what I’m about to say next because I will not repeat myself. My lover will be arriving in a few minutes from my personal dimension. While I don’t expect you to follow any orders from her or even like her, you will treat her with respect.” I paused for a moment making sure they knew I was serious.

“Any slight made against her will be seen as a slight against me personally. If that happens, I will deal with the one responsible accordingly. Lastly, do not take offense at the way she addresses me or acts around me. Remember that she is my lover, not my subordinate or minion and she will act that way towards me.”

Finished with what I had to say I slowly reined in my power and went back to relaxing on the throne chair.

“Was all of that clear?” I spoke softly to the almost silent throne room, the only sounds being those of everyone gasping for air on the ground.

“P-Perfectly, Lucan-sama!” Everyone responded in unison with a slight stutter.

“Good. Now before she arrives. Doom Lord, report!” From the ground in front of me my familiar rose out of the ground and dropped to a bow.

“Lucan-sama I’m happy to report that the mission was a success. I was even able to capture a secondary target due to being in the same vicinity as the first.” My familiar spoke respectfully.

“Ooh is that so? Well done Doom lord, where are they now?” I raised an eyebrow in in curiosity.

“No thanks necessary my lord. As to their whereabouts, they have been confined to some of the guest rooms on the 9th floor safely guarded by some of Demiurge-sama’s subordinates.” I looked at the Demon in question and saw him nod his head in confirmation.

“Very well. I’ll see to them later. For now, you are dismissed Doom Lord, I will call you if I need anything else.” I waved my arm in dismissal.

“Understood.” My familiar responded before merging back to the shadows.

“Now without any further delay, let me introduce you to the woman who is very dear to my heart.” Extending my hand, I opened the portal next to the throne and mentally called out to Cortana. {Alright, you can come through the portal now.}

Seconds later a slender leg covered in a black bodysuit appeared followed by the rest of her body. She took in her surroundings with a teasing smile on her face before walking up to me and greeting me with a kiss on the lips.

“Hello dear~ For a moment there I almost thought you forgot about little old me.” Cortana then sat down on the throne’s armrest with her legs crossed as she finally turned to face the others who were giving her varied looks.

“Hahaha I’ve only been gone a day Cortana, there’s no way I would forget about you.” I shook my head at her antics knowing she was just doing it to see if she could get a rise out of the others.

It seems her teasing worked two as I felt two auras slightly flare up in anger and jealousy coming from Albedo and Shalltear only for them to pale in fear and bow their heads all the way to the floor in shame.

Ignoring them for now I addressed everyone again. “Allow me to introduce you to Cortana. As you can clearly see for yourselves, Cortana is not human and is an Artificial Intelligence that I granted a human form to. She is a technopath and a super genius making her invaluable when it comes to dealing with any technology.”

Cortana preened at my introduction and cheekily waved at everyone in greeting.

“Alright everyone that will be all for today so return to your duties. Demiurge, Albedo I will leave you two to come up with a proper plan on how to accomplish my orders. For now, though everyone is dismissed.” I waved everyone away and stayed seated as everyone left the throne room leaving me and Cortana alone.

“Did my original body disappear?” I turned to face Cortana somewhat curious on what had happened to my original body.

“Yes. The moment the servers shut down your body suddenly disappeared.” Cortana nodded her head.

“Good to know. Now come there are some things I want to discuss with you.” Standing up I teleported to my office with Cortana using Apportation to follow me shortly after that.

“What do you think is the best way to make this world acknowledge me as a God Cortana.” I asked as soon as she appeared taking a seat in my desk.

“Hoh, so you’re going through with your plan after all?” She asked teasingly taking a seat in front of me and crossing her legs. “Tell me everything you know about this world.”

“Very well. First...”

(Several Days Later)

Haah finally! For a moment there I was starting to think we arrived at the wrong timeline!" I reclined back in my chair in relief at the image shown to me in the Mirror of Remote Viewing.

That was of course the attack on Carne Village by the Sunlight Scripture and where two cute girls were located.

"Oh, stop being so dramatic Lucan." Cortana who was sitting on a smaller desk besides me chided me gently with a roll of her eyes. "You already knew we were in the correct timeline with those girls you ordered to be brought in."

She was talking about Tuare or Tuareninya Veyron and Isabella with the latter being a character from the game. My servant had saved Tuare from a life of prostitution and she was now wholly devoted to me after I had saved her and erased her memories from those times. Like in canon, Tuare now worked as a maid with this time no one having a problem with it due to my previous words.

As for Isabella, she was basically a succubus and I didn't like her very much so I had just captured her, sold her and that was that.

"Sue me, I was just tired of waiting." I whined only to shiver feeling a pleasant sensation coming from my junk and looked down to see the form of Cixous happily sucking my cock while crouching under my desk.

When I had first ordered the maids to pleasure me like this there had been some hesitation but not because they didn't want to do it. They didn't feel worthy enough to pleasure me in such a way and thought that only someone like the guardians and Cortana had such a privilege.

I was quick to dissuade them from such a notion and they had actually cried and thanked me for being so kind to them which was a new experience for me but I was loving it nonetheless.

Focusing back on the mirror in front of me I finally caught the sight of who I was looking for as they ran away from their pursuers meaning I only had a few minutes to get ready.

{Demiurge, the time has arrived.} I called out over the Shroud already discussing this with Demiurge beforehand.

{I'll leave at once Lucan-sama!}

Pleased at his quick respond I sadly looked down between my legs and rubbed Cixous's head. "That will be all for now Cixous, unfortunately I have some business to attend to."

Forcing myself to cum I watched as the maid widened her golden eyes and did her best to swallow all of my cum just managing to do it. After that she spent a few seconds licking me clean before finally putting my dick back in my pants and crawling out from under the desk.

"Thank you for your precious gift, Lucan-sama~" Cixous bowed her head at me radiating happiness at having received my seed.

"Sure anytime~" Sending her a wink I opened a Gate and stepped through it. {Lupusregina, let's go.}

{Yes Lucan-sama!}

Arriving a bit away from the village I concentrated and changed clothes with the use of my Shroud to Vergil's outfit that had come from his template. I even somewhat pulled off his looks with my white hair and blue eyes.

"Now for the last touch." I smirked and held out my left hand with an uchigatana appearing in it a moment later. The weapon being none other than Vergil's main weapon, the Yamato.

"Lucan-sama~ You look so dashing~" Lupusregina gushed excitedly behind me immediately after teleporting in.

"Thank you but for this mission please refer to me as Vergil alright? And I will just call you Beta." I wanted to try the 'Hero' thing for a bit here and see how that went before surprising her later when she finds out the truth.

Of course, I would be playing different roles depending on the circumstances and how much effort I want to put it at the time but for now this seemed fun.

"As you command L-ahem-Vergil-sama."

With her approval I made my way into the village towards the 5 presences already heading our direction.

Keep running.

Enri had to keep running and get away from the knights behind her along with her little sister.

Her parents had already been murdered by those bastards and now they were coming after her and Nemu. Their only chance at survival now was running into the forest and hopefully losing their pursuers there while at the same time avoiding any monsters.

All of the sudden Enri felt a searing heat coming from her back causing her to trip and fall down to the ground taking her sister with her.

“Onee-chan!”

“Run Nemu!” Fighting through the pain Enri tried to push her sister away only to despair when instead of running, Nemu hugged her around the waist and refused to let go.

Finally losing the battle with her tears Nemu hugged her sister to her chest and hoped for a quick death.

Instead of feeling a blade pierce her again, Enri heard the tall tale signs of three bodies hitting the ground due to the heavy armor they were wearing and hesitantly opened her eyes seeing two figures in front of her.

One was a young man with white hair and blue eyes that was impossibly handsome and was holding a beautiful blade in his right hand. Next to him and to his right was a beautiful girl with gold eyes and long red hair that was tied into two braids.

They both wore dressed in extravagant clothes with the teen wearing a blue outfit with a blue coat with intricate designs on them and the girl was wearing a maid outfit but one made with what were clearly very expensive materials.

“Are you alright Miss?”

The teens question brought her out of her gawking causing her to blush in embarrassment at being caught staring at him before she hurried to thank him.

“Y-yes! Thank you very much for saving us my Lord.” Enri tried to bow her head in reverence thinking he was a foreign noble only to wince due to her injury.

(Normal POV)

Seeing Enri wince in pain I held back the urge to smirk knowing this was the perfect opportunity to bind them.

“Hold still miss, I’m going to cast magic to heal you.” Then without waiting for her to retort I willed my shroud to appear behind me and had it wrap around the two girls ignoring the way they panicked and closed their eyes.

‘Mine.’ I thought possessively letting my shroud retreat a moment later and quickly pulling up my HUD restricting their use of Conjunction and Apportation along with turning off all shared Defenses for them.

“Feel better?” I asked again looking down at the surprised Enri as she reached her hand into her back not feeling any injury at all.

“Yes! Once again, thank you for your generosity.” Enri bowed properly this time with her sister mirroring her a moment later after seeing her sister was no longer hurt.

“Don’t worry about it. I was just in the area and decided to help.” I dismissed her worries with a wave of my hand before looking at the direction she came from with a fake frown on my face.

“Though it appears I was too late to do anything for your village.” I added more softly and pointed behind her.

With a confused look on her face, Enri slowly got back to her feet and turned back in the direction of Carne Village only to gasp in despair and immediately breaking out into tears at what she saw.

Down below us as we were up on a small hill, we could see what remained of Carne Village after being reduced to mere rubble by Demiurge at my orders.

“E-Everyone...” Enri muttered in despair falling down into her knees just staring at what remained of her home.

“O-Onee-chan? Where are we supposed to live now?” Nemu asked tearing up as well and looking at her sister with a lost look on her face.

“D-Don’t worry Nemu. I’ll find us a place to live. I promise.” Enri proving what a good big sister she was stopped crying and brought Nemu into her arms and comforted her. “No matter what I have to do, I promise that I’ll take care of you.”

‘Hahahaha oh this is too perfect~’ I turned to Beta and saw a similar smirk on her face as the one that was probably on me right now and brought up my finger to my lips in a signal for her to be quiet which she immediately followed.

“How would you like to work for me as a maid, Miss?”

‘Come and step into the lion’s den little rabbit~’
